Georgia Negro Churches Burn

FBI Agent Attacked In Probe of Violence

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Plans are being made to raise $25,000 to rebuild two Negro churches which burned in this racially troubled southwest Georgia area where an FBI agent was attacked by a white farmer in the latest outbreak of violence.

The farmer, Virgil Edmund Puckett, 58, was held in jail on a charge of assaulting a federal officer.

Civil rights leaders pledged to help rebuild the churches in the nearby Sasser area and intensify their Negro voter registration campaign.

Negro athlete Jackie Robinson agreed to serve as honorary chairman of a drive to rebuild the Mount Olive Baptist church at Sasser, 14 miles northwest of Albany; and the Mount Mary Baptist church, about four miles from the other church. Both burned Sunday.

Two of the FBI agents in the area were investigating the fire at the Mount Mary church when a farmer drove up in a truck, verbally abused the agents, threatened to whip them and four spectators present, and jumped to the ground.

The FBI said agent Paul Mohr was hit a glancing blow which broke his glasses.

Sheriff T. Mathews said, "We're making a complete investigation of the fires." The sheriff said officers had found no evidence of arson but a state fire marshal was summoned from Macon.

In recent weeks, there were two incidents of gunfire attacks and one other Negro church fire.

British-Tied Nations Eye Common Mart

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today opened a summit parley of Commonwealth leaders amid mounting criticism of Britain's bid to join the European Common Market.

The premiers or senior ministers of 16 Commonwealth countries assembled in Marlborough House for 10 days of talks devoted mainly to Britain's plans to join the six-nation European group, an historic act bound to weaken some of the ties between Britain and the far-flung Commonwealth.

Demonstrations marked the opening of the 11th and biggest annual Commonwealth summit conference since the war.

These questions overshadowed all others at the 11th and biggest annual Commonwealth conference:

Can Britain find adequate guarantees to guard Commonwealth trade if it joins the six European nations and when the Common Market's tariff barriers are raised.

If Britain does march into Europe—and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan seems determined that it shall—can the Commonwealth survive?

Macmillan believes that Britain's entry into the European Economic Community will in the long run actually strengthen the Commonwealth because Britain herself will be stronger.

ate seats, 39 House seats and six governorships in New Hampshire, Utah, Arizona, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Vermont, Rhode Island, Washington and Colorado.

Georgia Democrats make their choice Wednesday.

Most of the attention is focused on New Hampshire where four Republicans are waging a hot fight for the seat held by the late Sen. Styles Bridges. There also are close battles in Arizona, Minnesota and Utah.

Six incumbent senators have either light or no opposition. They are Republicans Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, George Aiken of Vermont and Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, and Democrats John Carroll of Colorado, Warren G. Magnuson of Washington and Carl Hayden of Arizona.

Sen. Maurice Murphy, appointed to fill the vacancy created by Bridges' death late last year, may be unseated. Sen. Wallace Bennett of Utah has a tough Republican opponent in Salt Lake City Mayor J. Bracken Lee, dedicated foe of the federal income tax.

The New Hampshire scramble began when Gov. Wesley Powell named Murphy instead of Bridges' widow, Deloris. She has jumped into the race for the remaining four years of the term on the same conservative platform used by her late husband. She appears to be a front-runner along with Rep. Perkins Bass, a self-styled Eisenhower Republican.

New Hampshire's other House member, Rep. Chester E. Merrow, a liberal Republican, completes the field.

In Arizona a pair of conservatives are vying for the GOP senatorial nomination. They are Sen. Evan Mecham and Stephen Shadegg, former state chairman and campaign manager for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. Gov. Paul Fannin is unopposed for the Republican nomination to a third term.

The Billie Sol Estes case intruded into Minnesota's 6th Congressional District. Rep. H. Carl Andersen, who sold some mining stock to the Pecos Tex., financier, is running hard for the GOP nomination to a 13th term in the House against State Rep. Robert Odgaard, who labeled Andersen "the rogue elephant of the Republican party."

Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen of Minnesota is unopposed for re-nomination.

In Utah, Bennett is favored to win a third-term nomination to the Senate over Lee, but the stormy two-time former governor has pulled political upsets before. Rep. David S. King is the leading candidate for the Utah Democratic senatorial nomination and one of the Republican candidates for King's seat is Reed A. Benson, 34, son of former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Missing Tot Mystery Is Finally Solved

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—The mystery of a 4-year-old girl left in the bus terminal here three weeks ago, unwilling or unable to reveal her name or address, was over today. But the happy ending hoped for was lacking.

Police identified "Smiley" as Jeannie Lee Odom, daughter of Lois Jean Litterer by a previous marriage. The child ran to her mother's arms Saturday in the reunion at the Marion County Children's Guardian Home.

Personnel at the home called her "Smiley" because she was always smiling.

Police charged Mrs. Litterer, 27, Chicago, with child neglect. She was held under $2,500 bond.

Mrs. Litterer arrived here Saturday with her mother, Ruby St. Clair, 44, Chicago. They first told police a mixup in the terminal Aug. 20 led to the incident.

Mrs. Litterer, expecting her third child, said she felt ill and went to a rest room. Mrs. St. Clair said she decided to proceed to Kentucky to visit relatives and told Jeannie to wait for her mother.

When she returned, Mrs. Litterer said she found Jeannie gone, presumed she was with her grandmother and returned to Chicago because of the illness.

The two women admitted to police Sunday, however, that Mrs. Litterer was alone with Jeannie, and panicked after finding the youngster missing and being told police had picked her up.

Army Joins with Ben Bella In Planning Algeria Election

ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella and regular army Col. Houari Boumedienne were Algeria's rulers today and preparing to nominate the nation's first legislature heavily weighted in their favor.

Boumedienne marched 5,000 men of his Communist-equipped Army into Algiers Sunday ending the chaotic, seven-weeks occupation of the city of rebellious guerrilla forces of Wilaya (zone) No. 4.

The smart, well-disciplined regular troops were given a tumultuous welcome as they drove up and down the streets of the capital in flagrant violation of an agreement with Wilaya 4's leaders to demilitarize the city.

With roar after roar of cheering, the civilian crowds expressed both their pride in their 'national people's army' and their relief to be freed of the oppressive Wilaya 4 regime.

The guerrilla leaders had run the city at gunpoint and sought to impose an unpopular Moslem national administration, mainly

Reserve Call Powers Asked

McNamara Explains Situation to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today the requested presidential authority to call up 150,000 Reserves is needed to enable the United States to respond promptly and decisively if the international situation worsens suddenly.

McNamara appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee with Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to urge speedy approval of a resolution submitted to Congress Friday by the White House.

McNamara said the regular U.S. military forces "are strong today, and their strength continues to improve."

"The authority for a limited call-up of Reserves, however, would provide us with a flexibility of response which could be crucial if the international situation deteriorates suddenly and specific crises occur," he said.

McNamara testified behind closed doors but newsmen were given copies of some of his prepared testimony.

He said he hoped sincerely it would not be necessary to use the stand by authority to call up 150,000 Reserves while Congress is out of session.

But he said the resolution's approval would permit a prompt response to any crisis, "short of measures which would require a declaration of a national emergency—an action which would involve implications of a most serious nature."

"President Kennedy has made crystal clear his recognition of the threats with which we are faced, and the policy of this government not to allow the export of Communist aggressive purposes by force in this hemisphere or in other areas of the world," McNamara said.

"It is obvious to all Americans that we are in a period of acute international tension. It is also obvious that the forces opposed to us have the capability to precipitate crises, at the moment of their choosing, in many parts of the world—and that we must be able to respond promptly and decisively."

The secretary said the United States at any time may "face a challenge requiring an immediate and effective response," and that the enactment of the resolution would constitute "an endorsement by the American people of our determination to make that response, and provide us with the means to do so."

McNamara said the call-up of Reserves during a Berlin crisis last year provided tangible evidence of this country's response when our vital security interests are involved.

4-H Tractor Test Opens in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-four young experts representing as many states open two days of competition today for the championship title of the central and western U.S. 4-H tractor operators' contest.

The day's schedule included a written examination on tractor operation and safety. Tuesday they will be judged on five phases of tractor operations, including driving with two and four wheel farm implements attached.

Ohio's entry is Don Besecker, 17-year-old Darke County farm youth, who won the Buckeye State championship at the Ohio State Fair.

Soblen Drugs Said Smuggled

Convicted Soviet Spy Remains Unconscious

LONDON (AP)—A report today said drugs smuggled into Brixton Prison hospital enabled Dr. Robert A. Soblen to make his latest desperate bid to evade U.S. justice.

The fugitive spy still is unconscious and doctors said convulsions indicate he may have suffered brain damage.

The Daily Mirror said investigators have determined that the drug Soblen took was not stocked by the hospital. Soblen, under a life prison sentence in the United States as a wartime spy for the Russians, has been in a coma since he collapsed in an ambulance Thursday on his way to the airport for deportation to New York. He had taken an overdose of barbiturates.

The Sunday Pictorial said a woman who brought food for Soblen was under investigation. The food was left at the prison hospital's gate.

There was no official word on the Home Office investigation into how Soblen got the pills. Earlier it was speculated that he had hoarded sleeping pills prescribed by prison doctors. The 61-year-old psychiatrist suffers from leukemia and said the pain interfered with his sleeping.

A Hillingdon Hospital bulletin Sunday said Soblen's convulsions, which began late Saturday night, "have to a great extent been controlled. But he (Soblen) remains unconscious."

Doctors said today there had been no further change in Soblen's condition.

Dr. Cyril G. Barnes, who heads the medical team seeking to rouse Soblen, said the convulsions began soon after the runaway spy's symptoms of heart fatigue eased. "We are administering drugs and we are proving efficient in controlling the convulsions," he said.

Ohio Beauty Crowned as Miss America

NEW YORK (AP)—Lovely Jacquelyn Jeanne Mayer, a once chubby little girl who gave up eating lunches to realize her dream of some day being Miss America, began her year's reign here today.

But before leaving Atlantic City and the scene of her triumph Sunday, the auburn-haired beauty from Sandusky, Ohio, performed the last official act required of all the Miss America contestants. She ate lunch.

When she walked down the 167-foot runway moments after the Miss America crown was placed Jackie presented to the cheering Convention Hall crowd a graceful and comely figure befitting a beauty queen. The hazel-eyed, 20-year-old Northwestern University student stood 5-feet-5, 115 pounds and measured 36-22-36 in the vital statistics department.

Her title carries with it a $10,000 scholarship, and personal appearances during the year are expected to bring her about $75,000.

Scholarships also went to the four runners-up—Miss Wisconsin, Joan Mary Engh, $3,000; Miss Texas, Penny Lee Rudd, $2,500; Miss South Carolina, Evelyn Keith Ellis, $2,000, and Miss Hawaii, Patricia Lei Anderson, $1,500.

Nationalists Admit Loss

Formosa Says Planes In Use for 2 Years

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Red China, reporting it shot down one of two U2 planes the Chinese Nationalists bought from the United States, charged today the flight over Communist soil was part of a U.S. spy program.

The Nationalists confirmed that one of the high-altitude U2s they have been operating for nearly two years disappeared Sunday on a routine reconnaissance mission over the Red mainland.

A Nationalist spokesman said the U2s were bought from the Lockheed Corporation in the United States in 1960 and put into operation that December.

A State Department spokesman said in Washington that the U2 purchases were made with U.S. approval, but that operation of the planes was solely a Nationalist matter.

Officials admitted privately, however, that it could be assumed that information obtained from Nationalist U2 flights would be turned over to the United States in the normal course of intelligence exchange between two allies.

The latest U2 incident, announced over Peiping radio, came five days after the Soviet Union protested that an American-piloted U2 had violated Soviet air space over Sakhalin Island north of Japan. The United States admitted that one of its patrol planes might have been blown off (Continued on Page 2)

Wirtz Tries To Find Rail Strike Accord

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of the Chicago & North Western Railroad and its striking telegraphers meet with acting Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz today in an attempt to settle a 12-day walkout.

It will be Wirtz's first plunge into direct negotiations since he was named by President Kennedy Aug. 30 to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg as head of the Labor Department.

In announcing the meeting Sunday a Labor Department spokesman said it would be going too far to presume a quick settlement is in the offing. He indicated there has been progress in the negotiations.

Grain and other foodstuffs have been piling up at rail sidings. Construction projects dependent on material hauled by the road have slowed down or halted. About 16,500 railroad employees, including the 1,000 striking telegraphers, are off the job. Railroad President Clyde J. Fitzpatrick estimated Saturday the line has lost $6 million in the strike.

Job security is the principal issue in dispute. The telegraphers struck over a demand that no telegrapher's job should have been abolished since Dec. 3, 1957 without consultation with the union.

An emergency board established by Kennedy recommended the union drop this demand. It also recommended that the railroad agree to train displaced telegraphers for other jobs.

Cloudy Skies Curb Columbus Air Show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cloudy skies and the threat of rain curtailed some of the flying but failed to affect the turnout as an estimated 200,000 persons jammed Port Columbus Sunday for a free air show.

The flight demonstrations and scores of displays were part of the capital city's year-long sesquicentennial celebration.

All flying, including that by the Navy's Blue Angels and nationally known stunt pilots had to be done at extremely low altitudes and much of the program was cut because of FAA regulations requiring a 2,500-foot ceiling for such events.

Cloudy and warm today and to-night with occasional showers and thundershowers. Continued cloudy and cooler tomorrow. High yesterday, 80; low, 69. High today, 80-84. Low tonight, 58-62.

They capitulated after a week-long civil war and evacuated the city several hours before Boumedienne's forces arrived. In their new headquarters at Blida, 30 miles southwest of Algiers, the guerrilla leaders complained bitterly that they had been tricked.

The Political Bureau set Sept. 20 as the definite date for legislative elections already postponed six times since French rule ended July 3.

All the election candidates will be returned unopposed in a single-party ballot giving the voters a choice only of saying yes or no to the official list. All the 196 candidates to be announced by the Political Bureau later this week are certain to be returned, and Ben Bella will have a dominant majority in the National Assembly.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The end of the summer season was reflected in Ohio's weekend traffic death toll. Fatalities dropped to nine after having been that low only twice since April.

U.S. Master Spy Dies

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—William Warwick Corcoran, 78, a veteran member of the U.S. Foreign Service who has been called "Uncle Sam's master spy of World War II," died Sunday.

Nationalists Admit Loss

Formosa Says Planes In Use for 2 Years

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Red China, reporting it shot down one of two U2 planes the Chinese Nationalists bought from the United States, charged today the flight over Communist soil was part of a U.S. spy program.

The Nationalists confirmed that one of the high-altitude U2s they have been operating for nearly two years disappeared Sunday on a routine reconnaissance mission over the Red mainland.

A Nationalist spokesman said the U2s were bought from the Lockheed Corporation in the United States in 1960 and put into operation that December.

A State Department spokesman said in Washington that the U2 purchases were made with U.S. approval, but that operation of the planes was solely a Nationalist matter.

Officials admitted privately, however, that it could be assumed that information obtained from Nationalist U2 flights would be turned over to the United States in the normal course of intelligence exchange between two allies.

The latest U2 incident, announced over Peiping radio, came five days after the Soviet Union protested that an American-piloted U2 had violated Soviet air space over Sakhalin Island north of Japan. The United States admitted that one of its patrol planes might have been blown off.

Wirtz Tries To Find Rail Strike Accord

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of the Chicago & North Western Railroad and its striking telegraphers meet with acting Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz today in an attempt to settle a 12-day walkout.

It will be Wirtz's first plunge into direct negotiations since he was named by President Kennedy Aug. 30 to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg as head of the Labor Department.

In announcing the meeting Sunday a Labor Department spokesman said it would be going too far to presume a quick settlement is in the offing. He indicated there has been progress in the negotiations.

Grain and other foodstuffs have been piling up at rail sidings. Construction projects dependent on material hauled by the road have slowed down or halted. About 16,500 railroad employees, including the 1,000 striking telegraphers, are off the job. Railroad President Clyde J. Fitzpatrick estimated Saturday the line has lost $6 million in the strike.

Job security is the principal issue in dispute. The telegraphers struck over a demand that no telegrapher's job should have been abolished since Dec. 3, 1957 without consultation with the union.

An emergency board established by Kennedy recommended the union drop this demand. It also recommended that the railroad agree to train displaced telegraphers for other jobs.

Cloudy Skies Curb Columbus Air Show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cloudy skies and the threat of rain curtailed some of the flying but failed to affect the turnout as an estimated 200,000 persons jammed Port Columbus Sunday for a free air show.

The flight demonstrations and scores of displays were part of the capital city's year-long sesquicentennial celebration.

All flying, including that by the Navy's Blue Angels and nationally known stunt pilots had to be done at extremely low altitudes and much of the program was cut because of FAA regulations requiring a 2,500-foot ceiling for such events.

Youths Steal 4 Cars, Wreck All of Them

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Gene Kerns investigated a two-car collision near Kingston involving two stolen cars early yesterday morning. It was the first of a series of accidents.

The vehicles belonged to Marie and Wayne Miller of Junction City. Both were heavily damaged.

Two juveniles had stolen the cars, and had driven as far as Kingston. Trying to evade Ross County authorities, one stopped suddenly and was struck in the rear by the other car, driving it across the road through a fence.

The youths then escaped through a field and stole two more cars. Ross County authorities said the autos belonged to Robert Shoemaker and Charles Eldon of Kingston.

THE CAR belonging to Shoemaker was wrecked when it struck a bridge outside Kingston.

The juveniles were eventually apprehended by Chillicothe Police north of that city on route 35 when they wrecked the Eldon car, according to the report given to the local sheriff's department. The pair is being held by the juvenile authorities in Chillicothe.

Neither youth was seriously injured.

Westinghouse Strike Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 2,500 first shift employees at the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here say they will walk off their jobs at noon today to attend a special meeting of Local 746 of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Al Moro, local president, said the walkout be an unauthorized strike, but he said he called the meeting at the demand of the local members.

He said employees are unhappy over what Moro said is a virtual elimination of incentive pay under the present contract. He added that other grievances over working conditions are involved.

The Westinghouse plant here manufactures appliances and employs about 4,000.

Raccoon Seller Fined by Court

William Pettibone, South Bloomfield, was fined $50 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court by acting Judge Lemuel Weldon for selling a raccoon without a commercial propagating license.

The affidavit was filed by district game protector Fred A. Schob who said Pettibone received $5 for the animal.

Auto Inspection Campaign Urged

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio police chiefs were asked today to spearhead a campaign for legislation requiring periodic examinations of motor vehicles by the state.

"No driver is any safer than the car he is driving, and even the best engineered car in the world, without periodic inspection and maintenance, can become a highway hazard," Byron J. Nichols, Chrysler Corp. vice president and general manager of the Dodge Car and Truck Division, told the 31st annual convention of the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police.

The Chrysler executive also urged action on three other safety fronts—more driver education, building safer highways and wide use of seatbelts in cars.

Sheriff Seeks Details on Missing Man

A 74-year-old Ashville area man was listed as a "missing person" today by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

HENRY SCHWALBACH

Missing from his home since July 8 is Henry Schwalbach, Route 1, Ashville. He was last seen near his Walnut Twp. country home shooting birds with a rifle, according to Sheriff Walton W. Spangler.

Schwalbach's wife told the sheriff that her husband "had left before for several weeks, but it was learned he was staying with relatives."

Sheriff Spangler said Mrs. Schwalbach explained that she assumed he was with a relative. A thorough check with relatives by the Sheriff's Department failed to produce any sign of the missing person.

A DESCRIPTION of the man was to be sent to neighboring counties today via the sheriff's radio.

He is described as being short and thin; five-feet six-inches tall; 135 pounds; gray hair, rather long; and gray eyes. His date of birth is Oct. 1, 1887.

Sheriff Spangler has requested that any available information on Schwalbach be reported to his department immediately.

Municipal Judge Sends 2 to Jury

Ray Acord and James Congrove have been bound to the Grand Jury under $1,000 bond by acting Judge Lemuel Weldon on charges of theft and illegal entry filed by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The two were involved in the theft of series E government bonds, radio and coat from an auto at the Continental Night Club a week ago, according to the affidavit filed by Warren Straley, deputy sheriff.

They were also involved in the burglary of the Porter Laundry on North Court St., Straley said.

They were apprehended by Ross County authorities and turned over to the local sheriff's department. They plead guilty to the charges.

Two Burglaries Are Probed by City Policemen

Circleville Police today were investigating two burglaries committed during the weekend.

One entry was at the Clifton Auto Parts Store, E. High St., and the other at the Frost Top Drive-In, Lancaster and Stoutsville Pikes. Both burglaries were reported early today.

Loot at the auto parts store amounted to about $35 in change, according to Patrolman William Brungs. A total of $77.14 was reported taken at the drive-in.

The parts store was entered by removing the glass from a window on the northwest side of the building. A rear door was forced at the drive-in to gain initial entrance.

Patrolmen Jay Curry and Charles Tomlinson said the intruders also forced an inner door and desk drawer to get to the money.

Restaurant Is Burglarized

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today investigated a burglary at The Continental Restaurant.

The entry was reported by Barbara Thomas, an employee of the N. Court St. restaurant.

Entry was gained by tearing the screen from a back window and forcing the window open.

The intruders forced a cigarette vending machine, two game machines, a juke box and a wall-select or box connected to the record-playing device. Coin boxes were taken from all of the machines.

No estimate of damage or money taken was available at noon today, according to Sheriff Walton W. Spangler.

A representative from the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, London, was to check the restaurant for fingerprints and other information.

Peiping did not disclose the fate of the Nationalist pilot, but nationalist officials said privately they were convinced he could not have been captured alive.

It was recalled, however, that the Communists offered Aug. 8 to pay $280,000 in gold to any Nationalist pilot who delivered a U2 intact to the mainland.

Peiping's announcement did not disclose how the plane was brought down.

A Defense Department official in Washington said that if the Reds bagged the plane at its normal flying altitude of 60,000 to 90,000 feet, they must have the latest ground-to-air missiles at their disposal.

Assistant White House press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said the State Department was looking into the incident and that word of the Peiping announcement had been relayed to President Kennedy in Newport, R.I.

Paul H. Nitze, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, declined to say whether the United States has turned over U2s to any other allied nation.

REAs Urged To Battle Power Lobby

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Rural electric co - operative officials from four midwest states were urged by two national rural electrification leaders today to fight what they called increased lobbying and propaganda attacks by commercial electric firms.

Clyde T. Ellis of Washington, general manager of the National Rural Electric Co-Operative Association, and R. A. Yarbrough of Childress, Texas, Association president, spoke at the annual Region IV meeting here of Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia and Ohio co-operatives.

Yarbrough said he believes the activities of power companies against rural electric co - ops "cries for a congressional investigation."

Ellis told the meeting power company lobbyists "have swarmed over the Capitol like flies this summer—not just the paid staffs of the national organizations, but the top officials of the operating companies out in the states."

DiSalle, Rhodes Continue To Snipe at Each Other

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and his Republican opponent, James A. Rhodes continue to snipe at each other in campaign statements.

In Columbus, DiSalle said today that self-liquidating bond issues to finance Golden Age villages for state hospital inmates over age 65 would be unconstitutional.

The Democratic candidate for reelection cited two rather recent Ohio Supreme Court decisions to support his claim that the plan of his Republican opponent, State Auditor James A. Rhodes, would not work.

The decisions cited involved public institutional building au-

Westinghouse Strike Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Some 2,500 first shift employees at the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here say they will walk off their jobs at noon today to attend a special meeting of Local 746 of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Al Moro, local president, said the walkout be an unauthorized strike, but he said he called the meeting at the demand of the local members.

He said employees are unhappy over what Moro said is a virtual elimination of incentive pay under the present contract. He added that other grievances over working conditions are involved.

The Westinghouse plant here manufactures appliances and employs about 4,000.

Raccoon Seller Fined by Court

William Pettibone, South Bloomfield, was fined $50 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court by acting Judge Lemuel Weldon for selling a raccoon without a commercial propagating license.

The affidavit was filed by district game protector Fred A. Schob who said Pettibone received $5 for the animal.

Auto Inspection Campaign Urged

CINCINNATI (AP) —Ohio police chiefs were asked today to spearhead a campaign for legislation requiring periodic examinations of motor vehicles by the state.

"No driver is any safer than the car he is driving, and even the best engineered car in the world, without periodic inspection and maintenance, can become a highway hazard," Byron J. Nichols, Chrysler Corp. vice president and general manager of the Dodge Car and Truck Division, told the 31st annual convention of the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police.

The Chrysler executive also urged action on three other safety fronts—more driver education, building safer highways and wide use of seatbelts in cars.

Sheriff Seeks Details on Missing Man

A 74-year-old Ashville area man was listed as a "missing person" today by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

HENRY SCHWALBAUCH

Missing from his home since July 8 is Henry Schwalbauch, Route 1, Ashville. He was last seen near his Walnut Twp. country home shooting birds with a rifle, according to Sheriff Walton W. Spangler.

Schwalbauch's wife told the sheriff that her husband "had left before for several weeks, but it was learned he was staying with relatives."

Sheriff Spangler said Mrs. Schwalbauch explained that she assumed he was with a relative. A thorough check with relatives by the Sheriff's Department failed to produce any sign of the missing person.

A DESCRIPTION of the man was to be sent to neighboring counties today via the sheriff's radio.

He is described as being short and thin; five-foot six-inches tall; 135 pounds; gray hair, rather long; and gray eyes. His date of birth is Oct. 1, 1887.

Sheriff Spangler has requested that any available information on Schwalbauch be reported to his department immediately.

Municipal Judge Sends 2 to Jury

Ray Acord and James Congrove have been bound to the Grand Jury under $1,000 bond by acting Judge Lemuel Weldon on charges of theft and illegal entry filed by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The two were involved in the theft of series E government bonds, radio and coat from an auto at the Continental Night Club a week ago, according to the affidavit filed by Warren Straley, deputy sheriff.

They were also involved in the burglary of the Porter Laundry on North Court St., Straley said.

They were apprehended by Ross County authorities and turned over to the local sheriff's department. They plead guilty to the charges.

Two Plead Guilty To Assault Charges

Gary Lee Thompson and Virgil William Hamilton, both of Gibsonburg, O., have been bound to the Grand Jury by acting Municipal Court Judge Lemuel Weldon on morals charges.

They were charged with committing assault and taking indecent and improper liberties without the intent to rape, with a minor female child. Their bonds were set at $3,000.

Thompson and Hamilton both pleaded guilty to the charges.

Two Burglaries Are Probed by City Policemen

Circleville Police today were investigating two burglaries committed during the weekend.

One entry was at the Clifton Auto Parts Store, E. High St., and the other at the Frost Top Drive-In, Lancaster and Stoutsville Pikes. Both burglaries were reported early today.

Loot at the auto parts store amounted to about $35 in change, according to Patrolman William Brungs. A total of $77.14 was reported taken at the drive-in.

The parts store was entered by removing the glass from a window on the northwest side of the building. A rear door was forced at the drive-in to gain initial entrance.

Patrolmen Jay Curry and Charles Tomlinson said the intruders also forced an inner door and desk drawer to get to the money.

Restaurant Is Burglarized

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today investigated a burglary at The Continental Restaurant.

The entry was reported by Barbara Thomas, an employee of the N. Court St. restaurant.

Entry was gained by tearing the screen from a back window and forcing the window open.

The intruders forced a cigarette vending machine, two game machines, a juke box and a wall-select or box connected to the record-playing device. Coin boxes were taken from all of the machines.

No estimate of damage or money taken was available at noon today, according to Sheriff Walton W. Spangler.

A representative from the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, London, was to check the restaurant for fingerprints and other information.

Peiping did not disclose the fate of the Nationalist pilot, but nationalist officials said privately they were convinced he could not have been captured alive.

It was recalled, however, that the Communists offered Aug. 8 to pay $280,000 in gold to any Nationalist pilot who delivered a U2 intact to the mainland.

Peiping's announcement did not disclose how the plane was brought down.

A Defense Department official in Washington said that if the Reds bagged the plane at its normal flying altitude of 60,000 to 90,000 feet, they must have the latest ground-to-air missiles at their disposal.

Assistant White House press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said the State Department was looking into the incident and that word of the Peiping announcement had been relayed to President Kennedy in Newport, R.I.

Paul H. Nitze, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, declined to say whether the United States has turned over U2s to any other allied nation.

REAs Urged To Battle Power Lobby

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Rural electric co-operative officials from four midwest states were urged by two national rural electrification leaders today to fight what they called increased lobbying and propaganda attacks by commercial electric firms.

Clyde T. Ellis of Washington, general manager of the National Rural Electric Co-Operative Association, and R. A. Yarbrough of Childress, Texas, Association president, spoke at the annual Region IV meeting here of Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia and Ohio co-operatives.

Yarbrough said he believes the activities of power companies against rural electric co-ops "cries for a congressional investigation."

Ellis told the meeting power company lobbyists "have swarmed over the Capitol like flies this summer—not just the paid staffs of the national organizations, but the top officials of the operating companies out in the states."

Prominent Lima Contractor Dies

LIMA, Ohio (AP) —A. G. (Jerry) Sawyer, 71, a prominent Lima contractor, died Sunday.

DiSalle, Rhodes Continue To Snipe at Each Other

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and his Republican opponent, James A. Rhodes continue to snipe at each other in campaign statements.

In Columbus, DiSalle said today that self-liquidating bond issues to finance Golden Age villages for state hospital inmates over age 65 would be unconstitutional.

The Democratic candidate for reelection cited two rather recent Ohio Supreme Court decisions to support his claim that the plan of his Republican opponent, State Auditor James A. Rhodes, would not work.

The decisions cited involved public institutional building authorities seeking to build on state land for the care of wards then under Welfare Department jurisdiction.

DiSalle also reiterated that Rhodes' estimate of 11,000 who could be moved into proposed villages was inflated. "That figure is absolutely wild," the governor told newsmen. He said the total was closer to 6,800, of which about half are mentally ill.

The governor added that major institutions already have geriatric units and that he had recommended a bureau of geriatrics in 1960, although none was created.

In Toledo, Rhodes cited a report by the administration appointed commission on youth as proof of the need for his plan to cope with the juvenile delinquency problem.

Rhodes has proposed a creation of a commission on youth two weeks before a report by the administration group also made that recommendation, he said.

The Republican nominee, campaigning today in Toledo, where he was to open an area headquarters, took note of published reports that the state's leased wire telephone network was being used to forward the campaign of his Democratic opponent, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

"There is ample evidence," said Rhodes, "that this elaborate and expensive set up has been used to launch the present administration's attacks on Ohio's judiciary, law enforcement agencies and the Ohio Legislature."

Deaths

MRS. CORA A. JINKS

Mrs. Cora Alice Jinks, 87, East Ringgold, died 5 a. m. today at Audrey's Nursing Home, S. Scioto St.

Opinion on State of Business Still Is Divided

NEW YORK (AP) — Economic barometers are indicating fair weather but wariness of possible storms beyond the horizon persists. The preponderance of new business statistics was favorable. However, the improvement was by no means impressive.

An opinion about the state of business remained sharply divided.

For example, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said that currently available information "seems to confirm that the economy has weathered an unusual combination of adverse influences better than many people expected."

On the other hand, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said, "We are not growing fast enough economically to keep pace with our growing population and sooner or later we will be in serious trouble."

The employment-unemployment picture could be viewed two ways. The number of employed rose to a record 69,762,000 in August against seasonal expectations of a decline. Unemployment, which usually shows a substantial drop at this time of the year, fell off only slightly. As a result, the idle rate rose to 5.8 per cent of the work force from 5.3 per cent in July.

Seymour Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said he didn't see anything in the job figures pointing to a recession.

Automobile and steel production have perked up.

The automakers, nearing full stride in output of 1963 models, turned out an estimated 66,000 passenger cars against 35,378 during the week. They are expected to operate at full blast this month, assembling 456,000 cars, compared with 195,518 in August. If sales hold up, production is expected to soar even higher in October.

The stock market retreated in the first trading of what Wall Street considers the new business year.

Stock sales for the week totaled 3.04 million shares daily compared with 2.87 million the previous week. The total was 12,095,568 against 14,327,660 for the five sessions in the previous week. Bond sales amounted to $16,430,000 million par value, due to lack of trading on Monday's Labor Day holiday.

Steel output renewed its advance during the week with mills melting 1,672,000 tons, up 3.8 per cent over the previous week. For the year through Sept. 1, production totaled 67,978,000 tons, a gain of 9.4 per cent over the comparable period last year.

Businessmen were particularly cheered by the condition the paperboard industry, which they consider a sensitive indicator of future business. Paperboard is the material from which most boxes for packaging merchandise are made.

The National Paperboard Association reported orders to mills in the four weeks ended Aug. 25 increased 6.4 per cent over the comparable 1961 period.

The Federal Reserve Board reported department store sales

dropped slightly in August from the July level but said it considered the volume of business held up pretty well in view of fears of a steeper decline.

Total business sales—manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers—attained a record of $66.5 billion in July, the latest period for which figures were available. This was two per cent above June volume. Most of the gain came from retail sales.

New construction in August held even with the July level at an annual rate of $62.2 billion but was 7 per cent above August 1961.

Another case of alleged price-fixing developed when a federal grand jury in Columbus, Ohio, indicted 15 companies and 12 of their officials. The defendants, including U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, U.S. Rubber and B. F. Goodrich, were accused of fixing prices on three kinds of plastic pipe used in industry and agriculture.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American elections are getting to be a jinx. For years some big distraction has bobbed up before election day. It's happening once more.

This time it's over U2 spy planes, Berlin, and Cuba. Communists have contributed handsomely to the distraction over the years. So have the United States and its allies by amazingly clumsy performances.

Everything looked quiet less than a month ago. Trouble began Aug. 17 with the shooting of a refugee at the Berlin wall by East Berlin guards. West Berliners reacted violently. East-West relations got even more sticky.

This is bound to get an airing at the U.N. meeting which starts Sept. 18. So, too, most likely will Cuba and the U2s.

On Aug. 19 the United States sent three U2s—they're called reconnaissance planes now—to Britain for "high altitude sampling" programs over the North Atlantic. Skeptical Russians said the U2s should be kept "far away from us."

They got a lot of yardage out of the last U2 they tangled with. That was on May 1, 1960, when they shot down Francis Gary Powers in a U2 about 1300 miles inside Russia.

In that unforgettable mishmash the State Department lied, said the plane hadn't been spying, then admitted the truth and said President Eisenhower had authorized spy flights.

All this happened just a few days before his summit meeting with Premier Khrushchev in Paris. Khrushchev broke it up. On May 16, 1960, Eisenhower said there would be no more spy flights over Russia. On Jan. 25, 1961, shortly after President Kennedy took office, he said the same thing.

The U2s have been in business since around the world. It makes no sense to think they haven't been used for spying from high altitudes.

Then on Sept. 2 Russia did something to embarrass the United States. This country has been busy trying to stiff-arm communism in all the far places of the earth.

On Sept. 2 Russia and Cuba issued a joint statement acknowledging publicly what already was known: that Russia is arming Cuba, right in America's backyard and sending in military technicians to train the Cubans.

Some senators, perhaps without thinking of possible consequences, called on Kennedy to invade Cuba or at least do something. In this election year Kennedy inaction might give Republicans a handy issue.

On Sept. 4 he warned the Russians and Cubans not to get ram-bunctious. But that's about all he said. Then he asked Congress for power to call up 150,000 reservists if needed. Why he might need them, what he'd do with them, or whether he'd actually call them isn't clear. Nor did he make it clear.

But something else happened on Sept. 4. The Russians complained an American U2 plane had flown over Soviet territory in Sakhalin Island, just north of Japan, the far side of the world from England.

The United States hastily admitted this might have happened but denied it was intentional and explained the pilot might have been blown off course.

Then Sunday the Red Chinese announced they had brought down a U2 over their territory. The Nationalist Chinese on Formosa said the plane was theirs, and that they had bought it from the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in the United States.

Here are some of the distractions in other election years:

1948—The Russians began the Berlin blockade. 1950—The Communists began the Korean War and, just a few days before election, some Puerto Rican assassins tried to kill President Truman.

1952—The Korean War, still on, was a central issue. 1954—Sen. Joseph McCarthy's career was coming to a climax in the Senate and a month after election his conduct was condemned.

1956—Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt in such a wild expedition that Eisenhower had to call them off. Also, the Russians crushed the Hungarian revolt.

1958—This election time was less explosive but the Red Chinese were bombarding Chiang Kai-shek's offshore islands. No one could be sure of the outcome. It was not a completely quiet time.

The lid blew off in 1960 with the shooting down of the U2 over Russia and all that followed.

Half of School Buses Violating Ohio Law, Claim

CLEVELAND (AP) — A school bus accident which killed 6-year-old Pamela Deist Thursday in Peninsula, Ohio, occurred because more than half of Ohio school buses are not operating in compliance with a law requiring guards, the Cleveland Automobile Club said today.

Mrs. Paul J. Gnau of the AAA said she would call upon state officials for closer enforcement of rules and regulations specifying that every school bus shall have a bus patrol boy or girl aboard who gets off each time the bus picks up or leaves children standing in front of the bus in the driver's range of vision until all pupils have cleared.

Pamela was run over by the front wheels of a school bus from which she had alighted. The driver told the Ohio Highway Patrol he waited until he thought all the children had crossed the road and then started forward.

A lunch was served following the business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Snyder have returned home from a weeks vacation through the Smoky Mountains and Gatlinburg, Tenn.

Premeasurement Service Offered Through Local ASC

J. Austin Dowden, office manager for the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, announced today that acreage premeasurement service will be offered here.

Applications for the service will be taken beginning Sept. 11. Dowden said it will be necessary for the producer to furnish a sketch of the farm and designate the fields and subdivisions to be premeasured.

This service will be offered for wheat allotment acreages. There are a few requirements for acceptable areas such as size of field, subdivisions or tracts.

Dowden said there will be a small cost for farm visits, photography and ground measurements where needed.

Any changes in area after the premeasurement work has begun will require the producer to pay the cost of the extra work involved.

Memphis Banker Tied To St. Jude Campaign

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Civic leader and bank vice president Willard Walker Scott has been charged with forging a $50,000 note on the St. Jude Hospital Foundation.

Scott, 60, was arrested by the FBI Friday and charged with violation of the Federal Reserve Act after the forged note was discovered at the National Bank of Commerce, where Scott was an official.

Karl W. Dissly, Memphis FBI chief, said Scott forged the signature of Edward F. Barry, prominent Memphis lawyer and president of the foundation on a promissory note. He said the bank had previously agreed to make a loan to the foundation.

Dissly said Scott is accused of appropriating the proceeds of the note to his own use, but he did not say what Scott did with the money. Scott was released after posting $10,000 bond.

J. L. Ross, president of the bank said the loss to the bank was fully insured. The foundation suffered no loss.

Scott was treasurer of the local fund of the St. Jude Foundation and was one of the early leaders of the drive to build the St. Jude Hospital here.

The hospital for research on childhood diseases was completed last spring after a nationwide fund-raising campaign spearheaded by comedian Danny Thomas.

Plowing Contest Entries Roll In

WILMINGTON (AP) — Entries for the national plowing contests are still coming in, Lawrence Goettmoecker, secretary of the National Plowmen's Association, said today.

Goettmoecker said he has received applications from Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Ohio and Pennsylvania, and expects about five more.

The plowing contests start Sept. 27 and this year will be held in conjunction with the fourth national farm-orama exhibition.

GAS heat filters the air, so your home stays cleaner longer

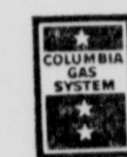

Practically all new homes built today are Gas heated, because Gas heat is clean heat. Most of the dirt in your home is brought in—on shoes, on clothes, through the air which enters when doors are opened. A forced air Gas heating system helps get rid of dirt—by circulating the warm air through filters several times every hour.

There is no dirt from Gas heat. That's why your walls, draperies and furniture stay clean longer than with unfiltered heating systems.

If your home is heated with modern, automatic Gas equipment, you have the best heating system you can buy! And, when you buy or build a new home, make sure it has modern Gas heat.

What's more, it's easy to convert your forced air Gas heating system to summer comfort cooling—just add on a Gas Air Conditioning unit to your present Gas heating system. Enjoy year-round, "whole-house comfort" with GAS!

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American elections are getting to be a jinx. For years some big distraction has bobbed up before election day. It's happening once more.

This time it's over U2 spy planes, Berlin, and Cuba. Communists have contributed handsomely to the distraction over the years. So have the United States and its allies by amazingly clumsy performances.

Everything looked quiet less than a month ago. Trouble began Aug. 17 with the shooting of a refugee at the Berlin wall by East Berlin guards. West Berliners reacted violently. East-West relations got even more sticky.

This is bound to get an airing at the U.N. meeting which starts Sept. 18. So, too, most likely will Cuba and the U2s.

On Aug. 19 the United States sent three U2s—they're called reconnaissance planes now—to Britain for "high altitude sampling" programs over the North Atlantic. Skeptical Russians said the U2s should be kept "far away from us."

They got a lot of yardage out of the last U2 they tangled with. That was on May 1, 1960, when they shot down Francis Gary Powers in a U2 about 1300 miles inside Russia.

In that unforgettable mishmash the State Department lied, said the plane hadn't been spying, then admitted the truth and said President Eisenhower had authorized spy flights.

All this happened just a few days before his summit meeting with Premier Khrushchev in Paris. Khrushchev broke it up. On May 16, 1960, Eisenhower said there would be no more spy flights over Russia. On Jan. 25, 1961, shortly after President Kennedy took office, he said the same thing.

The U2s have been in business since around the world. It makes no sense to think they haven't been used for spying from high altitudes.

Then on Sept. 2 Russia did something to embarrass the United States. This country has been busy trying to stiff-arm communism in all the far places of the earth.

On Sept. 2 Russia and Cuba issued a joint statement acknowledging publicly what already was known: that Russia is arming Cuba, right in America's backyard and sending in military technicians to train the Cubans.

Some senators, perhaps without thinking of possible consequences, called on Kennedy to invade Cuba or at least do something. In this election year Kennedy inaction might give Republicans a handy issue.

On Sept. 4 he warned the Russians and Cubans not to get ram-bunctious. But that's about all he said. Then he asked Congress for power to call up 150,000 reservists if needed. Why he might need them, what he'd do with them, or whether he'd actually call them in isn't clear. Nor did he make it clear.

But something else happened on Sept. 4. The Russians complained an American U2 plane had flown over Soviet territory in Sakhalin Island, just north of Japan, the far side of the world from England.

The United States hastily admitted this might have happened but denied it was intentional and explained the pilot might have been blown off course.

Then Sunday the Red Chinese announced they had brought down a U2 over their territory. The Nationalist Chinese on Formosa said the plane was theirs, and that they had bought it from the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in the United States.

Here are some of the distractions in other election years: 1948—The Russians began the Berlin blockade. 1950—The Communists began the Korean War and, just a few days before election, some Puerto Rican assassins tried to kill President Truman.

1952—The Korean War, still on, was a central issue. 1954—Sen. Joseph McCarthy's career was coming to a climax in the Senate and a month after election his conduct was condemned.

1956—Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt in such a wild expedition that Eisenhower had to call them off. Also, the Russians crushed the Hungarian revolt.

1958—This election time was less explosive but the Red Chinese were bombing Chiang Kai-shek's offshore islands. No one could be sure of the outcome. It was not a completely quiet time.

The lid blew off in 1960 with the shooting down of the U2 over Russia and all that followed.

Half of School Buses Violating Ohio Law, Claim

CLEVELAND (AP) — A school bus accident which killed 6-year-old Pamela Deist Thursday in Peninsula, Ohio, occurred because more than half of Ohio school buses are not operating in compliance with a law requiring guards, the Cleveland Automobile Club said today.

Mrs. Paul J. Gnau of the AAA said she would call upon state officials for closer enforcement of rules and regulations specifying that every school bus shall have a bus patrol boy or girl aboard who gets off each time the bus picks up or leaves children standing in front of the bus in the driver's range of vision until all pupils have cleared.

Pamela was run over by the front wheels of a school bus from which she had alighted. The driver told the Ohio Highway Patrol he waited until he thought all the children had crossed the road and then started forward.

Plowing Contest Entries Roll In

WILMINGTON (AP) — Entries for the national plowing contests are still coming in. Lawrence Goettmoeller, secretary of the National Plowmen's Association, said today.

Goettmoeller said he has received applications from Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Ohio and Pennsylvania, and expects about five more.

The plowing contests start Sept. 27 and this year will be held in conjunction with the fourth national farm-orama exhibition.

Opinion on State of Business Still Is Divided

NEW YORK (AP) — Economic barometers are indicating fair weather but wariness of possible storms beyond the horizon persists.

The preponderance of new business statistics was favorable. However, the improvement was by no means impressive.

An opinion about the state of business remained sharply divided.

For example, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said that currently available information "seems to confirm that the economy has weathered an unusual combination of adverse influences better than many people expected."

On the other hand, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said, "We are not growing fast enough economically to keep pace with our growing population and sooner or later we will be in serious trouble."

The employment-unemployment picture could be viewed two ways. The number of employed rose to a record 69,762,000 in August against seasonal expectations of a decline. Unemployment, which usually shows a substantial drop at this time of the year, fell off only slightly. As a result, the idle rate rose to 5.8 per cent of the work force from 5.3 per cent in July.

Seymour Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said he didn't see anything in the job figures pointing to a recession.

Automobile and steel production have perked up.

The automakers, nearing full stride in output of 1963 models, turned out an estimated 66,000 passenger cars against 35,378 during the week. They are expected to operate at full blast this month, assembling 456,000 cars, compared with 195,518 in August. If sales hold up, production is expected to soar even higher in October.

The stock market retreated in the first trading of what Wall Street considers the new business year.

Stock sales for the week totaled 3.04 million shares daily compared with 2.87 million the previous week. The total was 12,095,568 against 14,327,660 for the five sessions in the previous week. Bond sales amounted to $16,430,000 million par value, due to lack of trading on Monday's Labor Day holiday.

Steel output renewed its advance during the week with mills melting 1,672,000 tons, up 3.8 per cent over the previous week. For the year through Sept. 1, production totaled 67,978,000 tons, a gain of 9.4 per cent over the comparable period last year.

Businessmen were particularly cheered by the condition the paperboard industry, which they consider a sensitive indicator of future business. Paperboard is the material from which most boxes for packaging merchandise are made.

The National Paperboard Association reported orders to mills in the four weeks ended Aug. 25 increased 6.4 per cent over the comparable 1961 period.

The Federal Reserve Board reported department store sales

dropped slightly in August from the July level but said it considered the volume of business held up pretty well in view of fears of a steeper decline.

Total business sales—manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers—attained a record of $66.5 billion in July, the latest period for which figures were available. This was two per cent above June volume. Most of the gain came from retail sales.

New construction in August held even with the July level at an annual rate of $62.2 billion but was 7 per cent above August 1961.

Another case of alleged price-fixing developed when a federal grand jury in Columbus, Ohio, indicated 15 companies and 12 of their officials. The defendants, including U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, U.S. Rubber and B. F. Goodrich, were accused of fixing prices on three kinds of plastic pipe used in industry and agriculture.

Premeasurement Service Offered Through Local ASC

J. Austin Dowden, office manager for the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today that acreage premeasurement service will be offered here.

Applications for the service will be taken beginning Sept. 11. Dowden said it will be necessary for the producer to furnish a sketch of the farm and designate the fields and subdivisions to be premeasured.

This service will be offered for wheat allotment acreages. There are a few requirements for acceptable areas such as size of field, subdivisions or tracts.

Dowden said there will be a small cost for farm visits, photography and ground measurements where needed.

Any changes in area after the premeasurement work has begun will require the producer to pay the cost of the extra work involved.

Memphis Banker Tied To St. Jude Campaign

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Civic leader and bank vice president Willard Walker Scott has been charged with forging a $50,000 note on the St. Jude Hospital Foundation.

Scott, 60, was arrested by the FBI Friday and charged with violation of the Federal Reserve Act after the forged note was discovered at the National Bank of Commerce, where Scott was an official.

Karl W. Dissly, Memphis FBI chief, said Scott forged the signature of Edward F. Barry, prominent Memphis lawyer and president of the foundation on a promissory note. He said the bank had previously agreed to make a loan to the foundation.

Dissly said Scott is accused of appropriating the proceeds of the note to his own use, but he did not say what Scott did with the money. Scott was released after posting $10,000 bond.

J. L. Ross, president of the bank said the loss to the bank was fully insured. The foundation suffered no loss.

Scott was treasurer of the local fund of the St. Jude Foundation and was one of the early leaders of the drive to build the St. Jude Hospital here.

The hospital for research on childhood diseases was completed last spring after a nationwide fund-raising campaign spearheaded by comedian Danny Thomas.

GAS heat filters the air, so your home stays cleaner longer

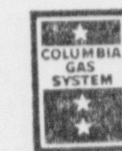

Practically all new homes built today are Gas heated, because Gas heat is clean heat. Most of the dirt in your home is brought in—on shoes, on clothes, through the air which enters when doors are opened. A forced air Gas heating system helps get rid of dirt—by circulating the warm air through filters several times every hour.

There is no dirt from Gas heat. That's why your walls, draperies and furniture stay clean longer than with unfiltered heating systems.

If your home is heated with modern, automatic Gas equipment, you have the best heating system you can buy! And, when you buy or build a new home, make sure it has modern Gas heat.

What's more, it's easy to convert your forced air Gas heating system to summer comfort cooling—just add on a Gas Air Conditioning unit to your present Gas heating system. Enjoy year-round, "whole-house comfort" with GAS!

Portugal, U.S. at Odds

Portugal's balk at renewing the United States lease on bases in the Azores, until certain political differences between Washington and Lisbon are resolved, is not surprising. Relations between Portugal and the U. S. have deteriorated badly in the last year.

Two American bases in the Atlantic island group are considered among the most important NATO outposts. The Pentagon has spent more than $100 million on its Azores defenses, developing a strategic launching site capable of delivering a retaliatory attack against almost any point in the continents of Europe or Africa.

Portugal has refused to accept payment for use of the Azores in the past, preferring to regard this as its contribution to NATO installations. Probably the next lease, if successfully negotiated, will include a provision for economic or military aid, or both.

U. S. actions in two instances are responsible for the souring of relations between the two countries and placing in jeopardy the important NATO outposts. First was U. S. support of the UN condemnation of Portugal's colonial policies in Africa.

ardly the important NATO outposts. First was U. S. support of the UN condemnation of Portugal's colonial policies in Africa.

Probably still more galling to the Portuguese — an action regarded by Lisbon as adding insult to injury after the African colonial episode — was India's brutal seizure of the Portuguese enclave of Goa by military force. The U. S. remained aloof, as did the UN, although Goa had been a Portuguese possession for more than four centuries.

Before the Azores lease is renewed, Portugal will have exacted much more than a mutual protection agreement from the U. S. Lisbon has already revealed, but not indicated the contents of, a political agenda which must be satisfied before a new contract will be signed.

A bit more statesmanship, and a lot less diplomatic expediency, could have avoided this impasse and preserved the tradition of friendship between the two countries.

No wonder a man today gets mixed up. To his lawyer he's a client, to his doctor he's a patient, to a hotel he's a guest, to a politician he's a constituent, to his bank he's a depositor, to his boss he's an employee, to a store he's a customer, to a sports promoter he's a fan—and to his family he's "good Old Dad," the provider.

On the basis of today's statistics, some of the economists here do see a recession sometime in the next six months or so, probably a mild one.

But many of the nation's top economists are complaining that today's statistics aren't all they should be, if they're to be really useful forecasting tools.

And others fret over the recent tendency of the public to accept certain statistics, known to the trade as leading indicators, as the infallible foretellers of the future.

"The leading indicators have helped cloud the issue," says William M. Tongue, economist for the Jewel Tea Co. "An across the board tax cut of a permanent nature could easily lead to another surge of consumer spending."

Dr. Arthur W. Burns, who was chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Dwight D. Eisenhower says these indicators "can frequently give an early warning signal of recession or recovery" but this tool is still imperfect and needs considerable research.

Now a Columbia University professor and president of the National Bureau of Economic Research, a developer of the indicator technique, Dr. Burns also calls for improved measurements of industrial production, of unemployment, of the consumer price level, of the gross national product. And

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Those homecanned beets look delicious—but they were deadly!

Botulinus germs had manufactured poison inside the jar. In the ground, botulinus germs live in coconuts called spores. But, sealed away from all air, they came alive and mushroomed into a poison producing explosion. Ordinary boiling didn't destroy them during canning.

Botulinus poison paralyzes vital nerves. A few hours after dinner, Mom and Dad felt weak and woozy. They began to see double.

Dad couldn't hold his eyes open. Bright light hurt because his pupils couldn't shrink.

Their queasy stomachs rumbled and erupted. Spoiled food irritated stomach and intestines.

Arms and legs grew limp. With brain cells paralyzed, they could barely swallow or talk. Every drink bubbled up through the nose or down into the lungs.

At first the doctor suspected bulbar polio. He grew suspicious when he learned that only Mom and Dad had eaten those cold beets. (Heat of 150 degrees F. for 30 minutes destroys the poison.)

Tests found enough poison in the jar to do in the whole county. Iron lungs pumped and doctors injected special anti-serum, while Mom and Dad teetered on the brink for several days. In quiet darkness, needles and tubing poured nourishment directly into their veins.

Eventually, the poison wore off

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After three years, during which "Dennis the Menace" has defied time by remaining a six-year-old boy, CBS' young blond star is going to start growing up—just a little. Jay North, who in reality is 10, is going to get out of those oversized play suits and into garments better adapted to his calendar age. But even in long pants Dennis will continue to harass his long-suffering next-door neighbor, Mr. Wilson, when the series begins its fourth season on CBS Sept. 30.

According to present plans, the dialogue given to Dennis will also be a bit more mature — those baby-type lines will hereafter go to Billy Booth, who will inherit Dennis' old costume and some of his more infantile characteristics.

Its hard to be absolutely frank about the "Miss America Pageant" which turned up Saturday night on schedule on CBS. Over the years it has built some sort of a warm spot in America's great heart, and now it's one of those things like motherhood, apple pie and Robert Frost that everybody is for.

Okay, so I'm going to come right out and say it. I think the "Miss America Pageant" which will get a rating bigger than Bob Hope's, is one great, endless bore—in fact, it's worse, it's an embarrassing amateurish bore.

Two and one-half hours is a long time to wait to find out what lucky girl is going to make a lot of loot in the next 12 months traveling around advertising a television set manufacturer, a home permanent, and a soft drink.

The part that bothers me, however, is that talent contest — it makes the Ted Mack show look as slick as a Noel Coward play.

There are "Miss America Pageant" fans of my acquaintance who take sadistic delight in that dreadful, foolish question period which apparently is the clincher for the title. On Saturday night, my vote went to that pretty girl from Hawaii who, when asked what she found most difficult during her five days in Atlantic City, looked right at the camera and replied, "Keeping my composure."

To The Editor:

I don't think it's a question of whether we in Circleville can afford the "mill and a half levy" for the hospital or not. I think it's a question of can we afford not to do it.

It's rather interesting to ride around Circleville and see the many signs of a prosperous community. We see kids on expensive bikes riding near clean, bright homes. We see evidence of many dollars at work on the lawns and shrubs, power mowers at work. Almost everyone with a new car, many with two.

We have near us a good community of industry and on the horizon the potential of many more new neighbors, both in business and as residents.

Berger Hospital does not have the accreditation the people who run it want it to get. They are aware of this and they are also aware of what it takes to get the accreditation they want.

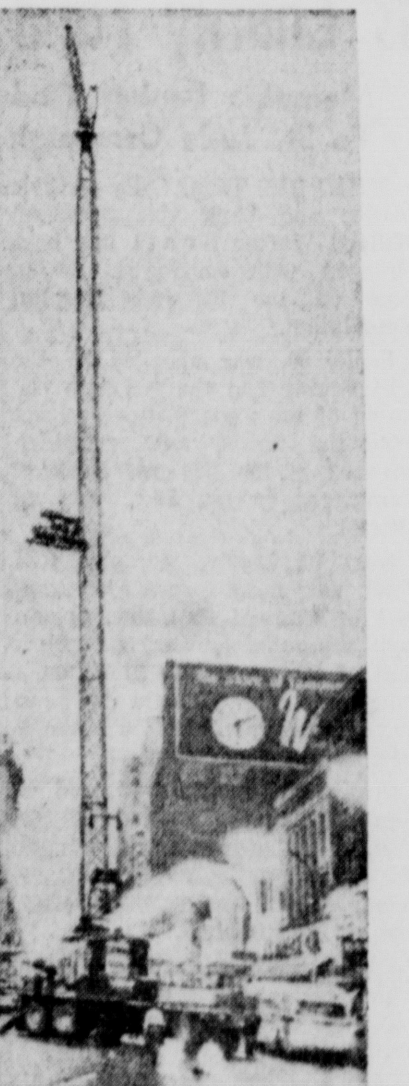

It would appear that it's going to cost us all a mill and a half more. In view of what we spend on everything else, can we afford to spend less for better hospital standards?

No wonder a man today gets mixed up. To his lawyer he's a client, to his doctor he's a patient, to a hotel he's a guest, to a politician he's a constituent, to his bank he's a depositor, to his boss he's an employee, to a store he's a customer, to a sports promoter he's a fan—and to his family he's "good Old Dad," the provider.

The Business World

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Want to know when the next recession is coming? How much it will cost you to live next year, or to get a mortgage?

Well, the experts gathered here for the annual meeting of the American Statistical Association aren't exactly suggesting you consult your tea leaves. But many of them warn you against taking their product, statistics, and jumping to conclusions.

Just don't take for granted a recession is on the way and make your business or personal plans that way, they say—too many things could happen. Nice thing, like a tax cut, or the force of the basic strength of the economy, or a switch in public attitudes.

On the basis of today's statistics, some of the economists here do see a recession sometime in the next six months or so, probably a mild one.

But many of the nation's top economists are complaining that today's statistics aren't all they should be, if they're to be really useful forecasting tools.

And others fret over the recent tendency of the public to accept certain statistics, known to the trade as leading indicators, as the infallible foretellers of the future.

"The leading indicators have helped cloud the issue," says William M. Tongue, economist for the Jewel Tea Co. "An across the board tax cut of a permanent nature could easily lead to another surge of consumer spending."

Dr. Arthur W. Burns, who was chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Dwight D. Eisenhower says these indicators "can frequently give an early warning signal of recession or recovery" but this tool is still imperfect and needs considerable research.

Now a Columbia University professor and president of the National Bureau of Economic Research, a developer of the indicator technique, Dr. Burns also calls for improved measurements of industrial production, of unemployment, of the consumer price level, of the gross national product. And he calls present statistics on the labor market "a patchwork of overlapping and at times puzzling compilations."

Robert W. Adams, manager of the Jersey Standard Oil's General Economics Department, says his firm lays future plans by balancing the statistical indicator technique with studies of other figures and trends. And each of these in turn is scrutinized for offsetting factors. He calls this a system of checks and balances which "in the economic forecasting field prevents any one concept or bias from achieving dominance."

More and more labor disputes hinge on statistics about such things as profits, productivity, prices, and even the international balance of payments.

"Statistics seem to be more prominently displayed than picket signs," says Peter Henle of the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, "and just as essential to a contemporary strike as the hot dog is to the ball game."

Yet he doubts if the public has any but the haziest notion of what the statistics used by the opposing sides mean. And in the showdown, Henle says, "attitudes are more important than statistics. Statistics can be quite useful, but bargaining is for people."

EUGENE O'NEILL, America's greatest dramatist, was the son of the famous matinee idol, James O'Neill. When Gene O'Neill was eleven, his father sat him down for a heart-to-heart talk. "Son," said his sire, "I'm not going to tell you not to smoke, because I know you will. Nor will I tell you not to drink, because I know you'll do that, too. You'll also gamble and chase women, if you're a son of mine, so I'd be a fool to say 'Don't do that, either.' But now I want you to listen carefully to your father: one at a time, Gene, one at a time."

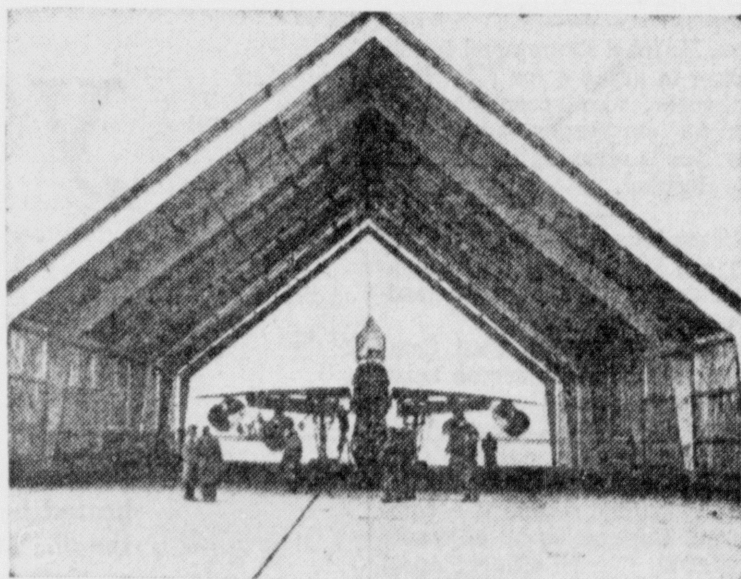

Lightning shattered a tree under which Squire Erskine's hired hand had unwisely sought shelter. Squire Erskine found him there unharmed, however, but severely shaken when the down-pour abated. A chiroprapist and a lung specialist—both leaders in their professions—were enjoying a well-earned day of relaxation on the beach when a beautiful girl in a bikini undulated by. "My," murmured the chiroprapist appreciatively, "did you notice the superb legs on that young lady?"

"You seem to forget," was the reply, "that I'm a chest man."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Those homecanned beets look delicious — but they were deadly!

Botulinus germs had manufactured poison inside the jar. In the ground, botulinus germs live in cocoons called spores. But, sealed away from all air, they came alive and mushroomed into a poison producing explosion. Ordinary boiling didn't destroy them during canning.

Botulinus poison paralyzes vital nerves.

A few hours after dinner, Mom and Dad felt weak and woozy. They began to see double.

Dad couldn't hold his eyes open. Bright light hurt because his pupils couldn't shrink.

Their queasy stomachs rumbled and erupted. Spoiled food irritated stomach and intestines.

Arms and legs grew limp. With brain cells paralyzed, they could barely swallow or talk. Every drink bubbled up through the nose or down into the lungs.

At first the doctor suspected bulbar polio.

He grew suspicious when he learned that only Mom and Dad had eaten those cold beets. (Heat of 150 degrees F. for 30 minutes destroys the poison.)

Tests found enough poison in the jar to do in the whole county.

Iron lungs pumped and doctors injected special anti-serum, while Mom and Dad teetered on the brink for several days. In quiet darkness, needles and tubing poured nourishment directly into their veins.

Eventually, the poison wore off and they were ready to go home. They were lucky. Botulism kills two out of three victims. Proper home-canning techniques can prevent this.

Rinse all dirt off food before canning.

Ordinary boiling (212 degrees F.) is O. K. for fruits, tomatoes and pickled vegetables; acid destroys botulinus germs.

Use a pressure canner for meats and other vegetables. Or use a pressure cooker and gauge for smaller amounts.

For detailed instructions, send 30 cents to the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., requesting Home and Garden Bulletin No. 6 (Fruits and Vegetables and No. 8 (Meats.)

An Amazing Campaign

Massachusetts has more candidates for one seat in the United States Senate than any other state. Altogether five men are running for the nomination. The primary takes place on September 18.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After three years, during which "Dennis the Menace" has defied time by remaining a six-year-old boy, CBS' young blond star is going to start growing up—just a little. Jay North, who in reality is 10, is going to get out of those oversized play suits and into garments better adapted to his calendar age. But even in long pants Dennis will continue to harrass his long-suffering next-door neighbor, Mr. Wilson, when the series begins its fourth season on CBS Sept. 30.

According to present plans, the dialogue given to Dennis will also be a bit more mature — those baby-type lines will hereafter go to Billy Booth, who will inherit Dennis' old costume and some of his more infantile characteristics.

Its hard to be absolutely frank about the "Miss America Pageant" which turned up Saturday night right on schedule on CBS. Over the years it has built some sort of a warm spot in America's great heart, and now it's one of those things like motherhood, apple pie and Robert Frost that everybody is for.

Okay, so I'm going to come right out and say it. I think the "Miss America Pageant" which will get a rating bigger than Bob Hope's, is one great, endless bore — in fact, it's worse, it's an embarrassing amateurish bore.

Two and one-half hours is a long time to wait to find out what lucky girl is going to make a lot of loot in the next 12 months traveling around advertising a television set manufacturer, a home permanent, and a soft drink.

The part that bothers me, however, is that talent contest — it makes the Ted Mack show look as slick as a Noel Coward play.

There are "Miss America Pageant" fans of my acquaintance who take sadistic delight in that dreadful, foolish question period which apparently is the clincher for the title. On Saturday night, my vote went to that pretty girl from Hawaii who, when asked what she found most difficult during her five days in Atlantic City, looked right at the camera and replied, "Keeping my composure."

Letter to The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. However the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

To The Editor:

I don't think it's a question of whether we in Circleville can afford the "mill and a half levy" for the hospital or not. I think it's a question of can we afford not to do it.

It's rather interesting to ride around Circleville and see the many signs of a prosperous community. We see kids on expensive bikes riding near clean, bright homes. We see evidence of many dollars at work on the lawns and shrubs, power mowers at work. Almost everyone with a new car, many with two.

We have near us a good community of industry and on the horizon the potential of many more new neighbors, both in business and as residents.

Berger Hospital does not have the accreditation the people who run it want it to get. They are aware of this and they are also aware of what it takes to get the accreditation they want.

It would appear that it's going to cost us all a mill and a half more. In view of what we spend on everything else, can we afford to spend less for better hospital standards?

THOMAS H. BERGEN
345 E. MAIN ST.

The principal contest at this moment is between Ted Kennedy, the youngest brother of the President, and Edward McCormack, Jr., the present Attorney General of Massachusetts. Both men are young—Ted Kennedy is the younger. Both come of distinguished Democratic families — Ted's brother is President; another brother is the Attorney General of the United States; a brother-in-law is head of the Peace Corps. McCormack's uncle is Speaker of the House of Representatives and a highly respected Catholic layman. Both candidates have pretty and intelligent wives.

The McCormack argument is that Ted Kennedy has had neither legal nor public experience; that is not yet ready to hold a position in the United States Senate; that the only reason that he dares run at all is that he is brother of the President.

The Kennedy argument seems to be that because of his relationship to the President, he can get more for Massachusetts from the Federal Government than McCormack can.

Apart from the two points, neither candidate differs much in principle. Both believe in the New Frontier. Both are supporters of President Kennedy. Both are of liberal persuasion.

It would appear that the Kennedys had put a much more effective organization in the field than McCormack has. On the other hand, there is considerable resistance to Ted Kennedy on the ground that there are too many Kennedys in the public eye. The Kennedys are much like the Adamses, of whom there were also a great many. Reinhold Niebuhr, at whose home in Stockbridge, a McCormack meeting was held called Kennedy's candidacy fantastic.

The Republican candidate will be George Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge who was our Ambassador at the United Nations and who ran for Vice President on Nixon's ticket. George Lodge has been in the Department of Labor and wrote a remarkable pamphlet on the capitalist system — one of the very few defenses which is well worth reading.

There are two other candidates whom we may omit from this discussion as they are not likely to be nominated. The excitement over the primary fight between Ted Kennedy and Eddie McCormack attracts so much attention that the contest between Democrats and Republicans seems to have been forgotten altogether.

The primary contest will leave wounds no matter whether Kennedy or McCormack is chosen. While the Kennedys from Washington say that they are not supporting their brother, ("He is on his own"), no one in these parts believes them. They assume that Ted would not be a candidate unless Jack approved.

The state of Massachusetts is increasingly Roman Catholic. Not only does it have a large Irish-Catholic population but a constantly growing Italian Roman Catholic population. The Governor of the state is of Italian origin; his predecessor is of Italian origin. When the ethnic content of a state changes, its politics is likely to change. Governor John A. Volpe is a Republican.

It is impossible to foretell the results of the forthcoming primary. There have been all sorts of polls, but confidence in pollsters is going down the drain because too many amateurs have got into the business who cannot put up the capital for a true sample. A pollster has to be taken more or less at his word, and some of the newer and less expensive firms have no word that can be taken. When a candidate is or has been a member of the Board of Directors of a polling company, that company ought to excuse itself from the transaction on the ground of a conflict of interest. That has not been done in some cases. So many polls in this campaign throughout the country have been fixed that a scandal is bound to explode sooner or later. The scandal will be over a conflict of interest.

In Massachusetts, no one takes the polls seriously. Ted Kennedy assumes that he will win. McCormack assumes that he will win. Kennedy's backers say he is way ahead; the McCormack backers are sure that he is in. It is an amazing campaign and has given courage to the Republicans who now believe that they will have a chance in what looked like a Democratic victory on a few months ago.

Mrs. Charles Search and Mrs. Dorah Morris were co-hostesses for the Past Matons Circle of the Eastern Star on Thursday evening at the Search home.

The president, Mrs. W. R. Sunderland, opened the meeting by reading a poem. Mrs. Curtis Pyle was in charge of devotions. The secretary, Mrs. E. W. Freshour, read the minutes of the last meeting and marked the roll.

Plans were made for the reception in honor of the deputy, Mrs. Leslie Dearth, to which all chapters of district 23 are invited. This will be held in the Masonic Temple on Sept. 23 from 3 to 5 p. m.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the annual dinner to be held in October.

The door prize was given to Mrs. Morris. Other members present were Mrs. Clarence Jones, Mrs. D. H. Dreisbach, Mrs. F. B. Mowery, Mrs. Herbert Lemley, Mrs. Carl Hohenstein, Mrs. J. P. Gardner, Mrs. Russell Wolfe, Mrs. Frank Haynes, Mrs. Thoburn Blaney, Mrs. Wm. Meadows, Miss Ora Rittenour, Miss Margaret Thomas, Miss Joann Lemley and Mrs. Ralph Yingling.

After several contests were enjoyed, a dessert course was served.

Mrs. Charles Miller has returned from a three weeks trip in the East. She accompanied her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and daughter, Mary Frances. They visited in Bridgeport, Conn., and South Bridge, Mass. A day was spent in New York City where they saw "The Music Man" at Radio City. They also went to the Summer Theater in Oakdale Conn., where they saw Geiselle McKenzie in "Gypsy".

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Senff were in Kingston recently for a visit with Mr. Senff's mother, Mrs. J. O. Senff.

Mrs. Senff accompanied them home to Wilmington, Del. She also visited another son, Merle, who brought her home Wednesday of this week. Coming home though Cleveland they stopped to visit Mr. Senff's daughter, Mrs. Ardith DeMoss and son, Robert.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Brundige of Miami, Fla., are visiting Mrs. Brundige's brothers, Vernon and Kenneth, and Mr. and Mrs. William Raub in Kingston, and her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dumm and children in Circleville.

They were accompanied by their aunt, Miss Minnie West of Miami, who is the guest of her nephews and niece.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dearth and Mrs. Stella Dresbach spent the day in Wilmington with Dr. and Mrs. James McMullin (Margie Dearth) and their children, Melinda and John.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dickerschied (Jean Dearth), Annette, Dan and Pamela of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Trueman, Donna and Keith of Hamilton spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland, Jeanette and Kendall Truman who spent last week with their grandparents, returned home with their parents Sunday evening.

Ohio Prison Overcrowding Reduced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the first time in more than a half-century, the population of all of the state's adult prisons except Ohio Penitentiary soon may drop to within recommended limits.

In making that hopeful prediction, however, Correction Commissioner M. C. Koblenz added:

"That's providing we don't receive an avalanche of court commitments in the next four months."

There were 2,688 court commitments to Ohio's adult prisons between January and August, compared with 2,801 in the same period last year.

But commitments to Ohio Penitentiary in downtown Columbus — where 4,400 inmates are jammed into facilities intended for 2,500 — still are running ahead of last year, 1,557 to 1,431.

Transfer of 711 inmates from the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield to Lebanon Correctional Institution has reduced the reformatory population from more than 2,500 to 2,160. More transfers are planned when work facilities at Lebanon are ready.

Koblenz says the ideal population for the reformatory would be about 1,800. Eventually Lebanon will be able to handle about 1,400. It now has 950 inmates.

London Correctional Institution's rated capacity is 2,100 and it has 2,063. Marion Correctional Institution, designed for 1,400, has 1,384.

Completion of another cottage at Marysville Reformatory — where 350 women are under supervision — will raise its rated capacity to 400.

The Division of Correction

hopes to get between $10 and $11 million from the 1963 legislature to build a medium security prison at Grafton in Lorain County and money to prepare plans for a maximum security prison near London Correctional Institution.

When these two facilities are ready, Koblenz says, the reformatory at Mansfield will become a maximum security prison and use of the downtown Columbus Ohio Penitentiary can be discontinued. But he also has warned repeatedly that the incidence of major crime continues to rise in Ohio, making it difficult for prisons to keep pace with commitments.

Ohio has the nation's third largest state prison system. The state's annual crime bill is more than $1 billion, Koblenz estimates. About $15 million of that is for operating the state's adult prison system.

How Weather
Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure system over Lake Michigan this morning will influence Ohio's weather today.

Southerly winds will continue the flow of warm, humid air into the state, lifting afternoon temperatures into the upper 70s and low 80s.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms will occur during the day and tonight as a cold front approaches through Indiana.

The front will move eastward through Ohio tonight, and temperatures will drop abruptly Tuesday when afternoon readings are forecast to be 10 to 15 degrees cooler.

Temperatures early today ranged narrowly from 69 at Youngstown to 73 at Columbus, accompanied by high humidity.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 77-84, normal low 55-60. Cooler Tuesday, gradual warming toward mid-week, cooler again by Friday. Rainfall will total one-half to one inch tonight and Tuesday, again Thursday and Saturday.

Robert Frost Gives Views
Of 'Ruffian' Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP) —Poet Robert Frost said Saturday that Premier Khrushchev believes in magnanimity, and is a ruffian. The poet flew down to Gagra, on the Black Sea, from Moscow but when it came time Friday for the conference, Frost didn't feel too well, so Khrushchev came over to the government house where the poet was staying.

There, Frost, 88, sat on the edge of the bed: "And we went to it."

His description of Khrushchev as a ruffian was strictly to express his admiration. It came after he had asked whether Khrushchev had given him any message to carry to President Kennedy.

"Yes, in a way," he said, but immediately some of his careful associates stopped him and told him he should tell that to Kennedy.

Then Frost said Khrushchev told him he should tell the President "not to do this, and to do that, and that he mustn't do this and must do that, quite a few things."

When he was asked what they were, Frost said they were "not on a low level of partisanship, all high level."

"I knew he was that kind of a ruffian. He's a big fellow. He's all ready for a fight. He's not a coward. He's not afraid of us and we're not afraid of him."

When he described Khrushchev as a ruffian, a Soviet woman correspondent at the news conference protested "Maybe you mean rough, but not ruffian."

Frost, who doesn't hear too well, went right on, totally disregarding her.

He said he had wanted to ask Khrushchev to grant him one wish without question, to tell him to settle the Berlin question, "but I didn't get that far."

Frost said he came to Russia to persuade Khrushchev and the Russians to compete with the United States in "strife and magnanimity."

"He agrees with strife and with magnanimity," Frost said. "He's no saphead. None of your liberal sapheads for me."

Frost expressed his views to Soviet and foreign correspondents crowded into his apartment in Moscow's best hotel, the Sovietskaya.

The first talk was of politics, but the comment which shook the Russians came in reply to a question as to whether Russian poets were well known in the United States.

"The chief one seems to be Pasternak."

Instantly there was a hush, the foreigners waiting for the Russians to react. The Russians were shocked and embarrassed. The late Boris Pasternak, much respected in artistic circles, is still a name which frightens many Russians, for he was virtually read out of Soviet citizenship for his novel "Dr. Zhivago" which won the Nobel Prize in literature in 1958.

TODAY
In History

Today is Monday, Sept. 10, the 253rd day of 1962. There are 112 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1813, Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, with a fleet of 10 vessels he had built in 1812 and 1813, defeated the British on Lake Erie off Put-in-Bay, Ohio. He then wrote the historic report of his victory: "We have met the enemy, and they are ours."

On this date: In 1846, Elias Howe received a patent for his invention of the sewing machine.

In 1917, Maine voters rejected woman suffrage by a large majority.

In 1939, Canada formally declared war on Germany.

In 1940, Nazi bombers damaged Buckingham Palace.

In 1944, American shells fell on German soil for the first time in World War II—fired by the 1st Army near Aachen, Germany.

Today's birthdays: Italian statesman and ex-president Giovanni Gronchi is 75.

Thought for today: "I believe that law was made for man and not man for the law; that government is the servant of the people and not their master" (John D. Rockefeller Jr.).

When he was asked what they were, Frost said they were "not on a low level of partisanship, all high level."

"I knew he was that kind of a ruffian. He's a big fellow. He's all ready for a fight. He's not a coward. He's not afraid of us and we're not afraid of him."

When he described Khrushchev as a ruffian, a Soviet woman correspondent at the news conference protested. "Maybe you mean rough, but not ruffian."

Frost, who doesn't hear too well, went right on, totally disregarding her.

He said he had wanted to ask Khrushchev to grant him one wish without question, to tell him to settle the Berlin question, "but I didn't get that far."

Frost said he came to Russia to persuade Khrushchev and the Russians to compete with the United States in "strife and magnanimity."

"He agrees with strife and with magnanimity," Frost said. "He's no saphead. None of your liberal

TODAY In History

Today is Monday, Sept. 10, the 253rd day of 1962. There are 112 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1813, Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, with a fleet of 10 vessels he had built in 1812 and 1813, defeated the British on Lake Erie off Put-in-Bay, Ohio. He then wrote the historic report of his victory: "We have met the enemy, and they are ours."

On this date: In 1846, Elias Howe received a patent for his invention of the sewing machine. In 1917, Maine voters rejected woman suffrage by a large majority. In 1939, Canada formally declared war on Germany. In 1940, Nazi bombers damaged Buckingham Palace. In 1944, American shells fell on German soil for the first time in World War II—fired by the 1st Army near Aachen, Germany.

Today's birthdays: Italian statesman and ex-president Giovanni Gronchi is 75.

Thought for today: "I believe that law was made for man and not man for the law; that government is the servant of the people and not their master" (John D. Rockefeller Jr.).

Ohio Prison Overcrowding Reduced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the first time in more than a half-century, the population of all of the state's adult prisons except Ohio Penitentiary soon may drop to within recommended limits.

In making that hopeful prediction, however, Correction Commissioner M. C. Koblenz added: "That's providing we don't receive an avalanche of court commitments in the next four months."

There were 2,688 court commitments to Ohio's adult prisons between January and August, compared with 2,801 in the same period last year.

But commitments to Ohio Penitentiary in downtown Columbus — where 4,400 inmates are jammed into facilities intended for 2,500 — still are running ahead of last year, 1,557 to 1,431.

Transfer of 711 inmates from the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield to Lebanon Correctional Institution has reduced the reformatory population from more than 2,500 to 2,160. More transfers are planned when work facilities at Lebanon are ready.

Koblenz says the ideal population for the reformatory would be about 1,800. Eventually Lebanon will be able to handle about 1,400. It now has 950 inmates.

London Correctional Institution's rated capacity is 2,100 and it has 2,063. Marion Correctional Institution, designed for 1,400, has 1,384.

Completion of another cottage at Marysville Reformatory — where 350 women are under supervision — will raise its rated capacity to 400.

The Division of Correction

hopes to get between $10 and $11 million from the 1963 legislature to build a medium security prison at Grafton in Lorain County and money to prepare plans for a maximum security prison near London Correctional Institution.

When these two facilities are ready, Koblenz says, the reformatory at Mansfield will become a maximum security prison and use of the downtown Columbus Ohio Penitentiary can be discontinued. But he also was warned repeatedly that the incidence of major crime continues to rise in Ohio, making it difficult for prisons to keep pace with commitments.

Ohio has the nation's third largest state prison system. The state's annual crime bill is more than $1 billion, Koblenz estimates. About $15 million of that is for operating the state's adult prison system.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure system over Lake Michigan this morning will influence Ohio's weather today.

Southerly winds will continue the flow of warm, humid air into the state, lifting afternoon temperatures into the upper 70s and low 80s.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms will occur during the day and tonight as a cold front approaches through Indiana.

The front will move eastward through Ohio tonight, and temperatures will drop a abruptly Tuesday when afternoon readings are forecast to be 10 to 15 degrees cooler.

Temperatures early today ranged narrowly from 69 at Youngstown to 73 at Columbus, accompanied by high humidity.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 77-84, normal low 55-60. Cooler Tuesday, gradual warming toward mid-week, cooler again by Friday. Rainfall will total one-half to one inch tonight and Tuesday, again Thursday and Saturday.

Girl Scout Dolly Derby Plans Made

The Rev. George Morey Evans, executive director of Goodwill Industries of Central Ohio, announced that dolls are needed for Girl Scouts in nine Central Ohio counties to dress for the third annual Dolly Derby to be held this fall.

The Dolly Derby, a three-day open house with dressed dolls on display, is held at the Columbus, Chillicothe, Marion, and Newark, Goodwill Industries. Last year a total of 1,808 dolls were entered. This year's goal is for 2,250.

Girl Scouts in Pickaway Franklin, Delaware, Fayette, Licking, Madison, Marion, Ross and Union Counties are eligible to enter the doll-dressing competition. This is a service project for the Girl Scouts and makes them eligible for merit badges.

First, second and third prize ribbons are awarded in several classifications of dollars and in two age categories of the Scouts, 9-11 and 12-17.

Dolls are cleaned, repaired and packaged in clear plastic bags by Goodwill Industries' handicapped employees. Each Girl Scout chooses the doll she wants to dress. She designs a costume, buys new fabric not to exceed $1 in cost, sews the clothing, dresses the doll and returns it to Goodwill Industries prior to the date set for judging.

Between the Dolly Derby and Christmas the dolls are sold in the seven Goodwill Industries stores in Columbus and the branches. Proceeds pay for training and employment of handicapped persons at Goodwill Industries.

Dolls which are usable, or can be made so, are needed. Doll parts can be used if they are strong. When completed, the products must meet certain standards before they are given to Scouts to dress.

They may be taken directly to the Goodwill Industries workshop or picked up with other donations by calling Goodwill Industries in your community.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

All Work and No Play!

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a guy who thinks more of his job than he does of me. He is an insurance agent who loves his work and is trying to get ahead. After work he comes straight to his house. When he walks in the door he doesn't say, "I love you." He says, "Don't bother me, I have work to do." We never go out any more because he's either too tired or wants to study. He practically ignores me and we aren't even married yet. Should I stick with him?

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Your boy friend's ambition is impressive, but he's courting a career—not a girl. If you want a go-getter in business and a go-to-sleeper at home, he's your agent.

DEAR ABBY: I am allergic to lawyers. I have practically supported lawyers all my life and I am sick of them. Now I want to get a divorce, but I don't want a lawyer getting into the act. I know I either have to pay alimony to my wife or make a fat settlement on her. I am willing to make a deal with her, but I don't want any lawyers cutting themselves a big slice for nothing. Is it possible to get a divorce without a lawyer?

SICK OF LAWYERS
DEAR SICK: Only a lawyer is qualified to advise you in legal matters. Better ask a lawyer if you need to hire one.

DEAR ABBY: A very pretty young woman recently moved to town and I started dating her. I made up my mind that I was going to be a perfect gentleman. I didn't try to kiss her goodnight and I didn't take her parking or anything like that. She soon dropped me. Later I found out that she didn't want to have anything to do with me because she thought something must be "wrong" with me.

MISSED MY CHANCE
DEAR MISSED: You didn't miss much. Something was wrong with her. She was probably so conditioned to wolves that she didn't know how to handle a lamb.

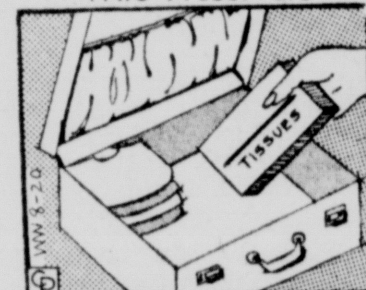

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Basket Dinner Enjoyed by Family Group

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Drum and children, David and Marsha Kay, Amanda, entertained members of the Bowman and Drum families Labor Day. A basket dinner was held at noon.

During the afternoon pictures of California and previous family gatherings were shown by Mrs. John Burns of Dayton. Velcro ball croquet were played and home made ice cream was served to the group.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Karl Drum, Mr. and Mrs. Orwin Drum and daughter Donna, Mrs. Audrey Strawser, Mrs. Isabelle Baker, Louise Marshall, Mrs. David Green, and children, Debbie Dianne and Douglas, all of Circleville; the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Bowman, Mrs. Doris Hampshire and daughter Elizabeth Ann, Harriett Valentine, all of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. John Burns, Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. James Barnhill and daughter Carolyn, Gibsonburg, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Drum, Mrs. Oddie Drum, Winifred and Robert Drum, Miss Jo Ann Fosnaugh, Amanda, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hunter, Lancaster, and Miss Carol Deiner, Lorain, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Valentine, Stoutsville, were afternoon visitors.

Girl Scout Dolly Derby Plans Made

The Rev. George Morey Evans, executive director of Goodwill Industries of Central Ohio, announced that dolls are needed for Girl Scouts in nine Central Ohio counties to dress for the third annual Dolly Derby to be held this fall.

The Dolly Derby, a three-day open house with dressed dolls on display, is held at the Columbus, Chillicothe, Marion, and Newark, Goodwill Industries. Last year a total of 1,808 dolls were entered. This year's goal is for 2,250.

Girl Scouts in Pickaway, Franklin, Delaware, Fayette, Licking, Madison, Marion, Ross and Union Counties are eligible to enter the doll-dressing competition. This is a service project for the Girl Scouts and makes them eligible for merit badges.

First, second and third prize ribbons are awarded in several classifications of dollars and in two age categories of the Scouts, 9-11 and 12-17.

Dolls are cleaned, repaired and packaged in clear plastic bags by Goodwill Industries' handicapped employees. Each Girl Scout chooses the doll she wants to dress. She designs a costume, buys new fabric not to exceed $1 in cost, sews the clothing, dresses the doll and returns it to Goodwill Industries prior to the date set for judging.

Between the Dolly Derby and Christmas the dolls are sold in the seven Goodwill Industries stores in Columbus and the branches. Proceeds pay for training and employment of handicapped persons at Goodwill Industries.

Dolls which are usable, or can be made so, are needed. Doll parts can be used if they are strong. When completed, the products must meet certain standards before they are given to Scouts to dress.

They may be taken directly to the Goodwill Industries workshop or picked up with other donations by calling Goodwill Industries in your community.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

All Work and No Play!

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a guy who thinks more of his job than he does of me. He is an insurance agent who loves his work and is trying to get ahead. After work he comes straight to my house. When he walks in the door he doesn't say, "I love you." He says, "Don't bother me, I have work to do." We never go out any more because he's either too tired or wants to study. He practically ignores me and we aren't even married yet. Should I stick with him?

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Your boy friend's ambition is impressive, but he's courting a career—not a girl. If you want a go-getter in business and a go-to-sleeper at home, he's your agent.

DEAR ABBY: I am allergic to lawyers. I have practically supported lawyers all my life and I am sick of them. Now I want to get a divorce, but I don't want a lawyer getting into the act. I know I either have to pay alimony to my wife or make a fat settlement on her. I am willing to make a deal with her, but I don't want any lawyers cutting themselves a big slice for nothing. Is it possible to get a divorce without a lawyer?

SICK OF LAWYERS

DEAR SICK: Only a lawyer is qualified to advise you in legal matters. Better ask a lawyer if you need to hire one.

DEAR ABBY: A very pretty young woman recently moved to town and I started dating her. I made up my mind that I was going to be a perfect gentleman. I didn't try to kiss her goodnight and I didn't take her parking or anything like that. She soon dropped me. Later I found out that she didn't want to have anything to do with me because she thought something must be "wrong" with me.

MISSED MY CHANCE

DEAR MISSED: You didn't miss much. Something was wrong with her. She was probably so conditioned to wolves that she didn't know how to handle a lamb.

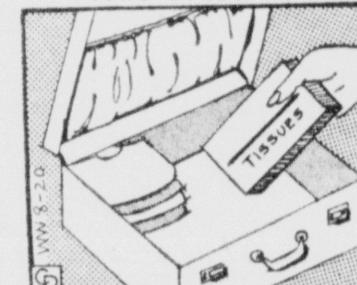

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Yankees Prove Very Weak on Doubleheaders

Twin Bill Schedule Would Have Left AL Leaders in 9th Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the New York Yankees played two games every day, they might be holding up the American League instead of heading it.

The Yankees dropped a pair to the Boston Red Sox Sunday, 9-3 and 5-4 in 16 innings, for their eighth doubleheader loss this season. They have split 10, and swept only three.

That works out to a .381 pace, and spread over the full season it would put the Yankees in a flat tie for ninth place with the Washington Senators, who are going at that same speed.

But if the formula for beating the Yankees has been found at last, the two top pursuers lost a golden opportunity to take advantage of it.

The second-place Minnesota Twins dropped a 10-9 battle to Detroit, and the third-place Los Angeles fell 4-3 to Baltimore in 14 innings. The Twins inched up to within 2 1/2 games and the Angels to four.

In other action, the Chicago White Sox slipped into fourth place ahead of Detroit by trimming Washington twice, 4-3 and 3-2 in 11 innings, and the Cleveland Indians dropped Kansas City 12-7.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers protected their slim 1/2 game lead by defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3, after second-place San Francisco had trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-4. Cincinnati practically fell out of contention by losing 5-3 to the St. Louis Cardinals, the Philadelphia Phils whipped Milwaukee 4-2, and the Houston Colts and the New York Mets played a 7-7 tie, suspended after eight innings to let the Mets catch a plane. It will be resumed Sept. 20 in New York.

The Red Sox squeezed home the winning run in the top of the 16th inning in the nightcap, after Bob Tillman doubled and went to third on a wide pitch. Pinch hitter Billy Gardner, a former Yankee, laid down a perfect bunt that scored Tillman.

Dick Radatz, who has the league's second best earned run average, took over in the seventh, allowed the run that tied the game at 4-4, and then shut out the Yankees the rest of the way.

Home runs by Carl Yastrzemski, Ed Bressoud and Lu Clinton powered the opening game victory and spoiled the pitching debut of Skinny Brown for the Yankees. Bill Monbouquette went all the way for Boston.

Tiger Quarterback Is Player of Week

Dave Hannahs, senior quarterback for the Circleville Tigers, was selected "Player of the week" in Friday's 42-0 win at Olentangy.

The player of the week is selected by the Tiger coaching staff after game films have been closely reviewed. Hannahs accumulated a 2.44 average of a possible perfect four point. Carl Benhase, Tiger mentor, termed this a good score.

Benhase said the consistent play of the Tiger field general, both offensively and defensively, won the award.

Hannahs handled the ball well and did an excellent job of faking. The Tiger backfield chalked the victory without a single fumble.

THE Circleville signal caller hit four of five passes, one good for a touchdown. He ran the ball for two extra points following the Red and Black's second TD.

On defense Hannahs played in the safety slot. He was in on the only two Olentangy plays that broke past the line of scrimmage while the starting lineup was in the game. He stopped the runner on one and assisted Garold Dade on the other tackle.

Other Tiger gridders drawing special commendation from the coaching staff were Garold Dade with a 2.35 average, Freddie Moore with a 2.34, Duke Eyffe with a 2.31 and Tom Copeland with a 2.30.

Grand Slam Homer Sends Reds Reeling

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The first grand slam home run Carl Sawatski ever hit in the major leagues has just about knocked the Cincinnati Reds out of the 1962 national league pennant race.

It came Sunday in the ninth inning in Cincinnati with two out and the Reds leading the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1. The final score was 5-3, and the win gave St. Louis two victories in the three game series.

With only 17 games left to play and in third place, 5 1/2 games behind leading Los Angeles, the Reds would need a terrific drive to win the flag.

The big blow came when Sawatski, major league catcher for almost 10 years, stepped up to pinch hit for shortstop Dal Maxvill. Sawatski took two strikes and then Jim Brosnan (4-4) shot a slider right down the tube. Sawatski knocked the ball far into the right-field bleachers.

Leo Cardenas scored the Reds' first run with a fifth inning homer with one on.

Cincinnati added another run in the eighth on Johnny Edwards' homer.

The Cards and Reds open a two-game series here tonight, with Joe Nuxhall (5-0) scheduled to pitch for Cincinnati against Ernie Broglio (11-7).

Three Cincinnati farm hands are to report to the Reds here today. They are pitcher Sam Ellis and catcher Jesse Gonder of San Diego and infielder Cookie Rojas of the Dallas-Fort Worth club.

Packers, Browns Favored To Set Pro Grid Loop Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Green Bay's mighty Packers and the resurgent Cleveland Browns stand out as favorites as the National Football League heads into its 43rd season.

The Packers, with the same powerful team that swept to the Western Division title and devastated New York 37-0 in the championship playoff last year, open with a home game against the Minnesota Vikings Sunday when the 14-club league begins firing in earnest. The Browns, once invincible in the East but shut out of the division crown since 1957, start right off against the arch rival New York Giants in a battle at Cleveland between the conference's top two contenders.

Also on the first day schedule: Pittsburgh at Detroit, St. Louis at Philadelphia, Los Angeles at Baltimore, Chicago at San Francisco and Washington at Dallas.

Green Bay and Cleveland shared honors in the month of exhibition play which concluded over the weekend. The Packers scored five straight victories over NFL teams after their 42-20 conquest of the college All Stars, while the Browns won all five of their exhibition games against league opposition.

Green Bay closed out its pre-season action with a 20-14 decision over the Washington Redskins (1-4) Saturday night and Cleveland overcame the Chicago Bears (0-5) 28-24 Friday night. Elsewhere, Pittsburgh rookies led the Steelers (2-3) over the Baltimore Colts (3-2) 20-9 Sunday, Minnesota (2-3) clouted the Dallas Cowboys (0-5) 45-26 and the San Francisco 49ers (4-1) beat the Los Angeles Rams (2-3) 19-3 Saturday night. The Giants (2-2-1) racked up the Philadelphia Eagles (3-2) 27-10 in a day game Saturday, and the Detroit Lions (4-1) beat the St. Louis Cardinals (1-3-1) 14-0 Friday night.

Bart Starr passed for two Green Bay touchdowns and reserve John Roach threw for the other as the Packers won their 19th exhibition game in a row by beating the Redskins.

Jim Ninowski, the ex-Lion who's been a sensation for the Browns, fired Cleveland's clincher against the Bears when he hit rookie Gary Collins with a 13-yard payoff pass midway in the final period, overcoming a 24-21 Chicago lead.

Bucks Tagged As Top Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the men who vote in The Associated Press pre-season football poll are right, only the faculty can keep Ohio State out of the Rose Bowl this season.

The Buckeyes, whose 8-0-1 slate last season was good for second behind Alabama (10-0), were an overwhelming favorite to take the national championship this year.

The Rose Bowl trip will come along if the Buckeyes live up to their ranking. Ohio State lost the trip last year by a rejection vote of the university's faculty senate.

The defending champion Alabama Crimson Tide were tagged for third in the pre-season voting, behind Texas.

Michigan State was selected for fourth position, followed by Louisiana State, Mississippi, Purdue, Duke, Penn State and Washington, in that order.

Packers, Browns Favored To Set Pro Grid Loop Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Green Bay's mighty Packers and the resurgent Cleveland Browns stand out as favorites as the National Football League heads into its 43rd season.

The Packers, with the same powerful team that swept to the Western Division title and devastated New York 37-0 in the championship playoff last year, open with a home game against the Minnesota Vikings Sunday when the 14-club league begins firing in earnest. The Browns, once in vincible in the East but shut out of the division crown since 1957, start right off against the arch rival New York Giants in a battle at Cleveland between the conference's top two contenders.

Also on the first day schedule: Pittsburgh at Detroit, St. Louis at Philadelphia, Los Angeles at Baltimore, Chicago at San Francisco and Washington at Dallas.

Green Bay and Cleveland shared honors in the month of exhibition play which concluded over the weekend. The Packers scored five straight victories over NFL teams after their 42-20 conquest of the college All Stars, while the Browns won all five of their exhibition games against league opposition.

Green Bay closed out its pre-season action with a 20-14 decision over the Washington Redskins (1-4) Saturday night and Cleveland overcame the Chicago Bears (0-5) 28-24 Friday night. Elsewhere, Pittsburgh rookies led the Steelers (2-3) over the Baltimore Colts (3-2) 20-9 Sunday. Minnesota (2-3) clouted the Dallas Cowboys (0-5) 45-26 and the San Francisco 49ers (4-1) beat the Los Angeles Rams (2-3) 19-3 Saturday night. The Giants (2-2-1) racked up the Philadelphia Eagles (3-2) 27-10 in a day game Saturday, and the Detroit Lions (4-1) beat the St. Louis Cardinals (1-3-1) 14-0 Friday night.

Bart Starr passed for two Green Bay touchdowns and reserve John Roach threw for the other as the Packers won their 19th exhibition game in a row by beating the Redskins.

Jim Ninowski, the ex-Lion who's been a sensation for the Browns, fired Cleveland's clincher against the Bears when he hit rookie Gary Collins with a 13-yard payoff pass midway in the final period, overcoming a 24-21 Chicago lead.

Bucks Tagged As Top Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the men who vote in The Associated Press pre-season football poll are right, only the faculty can keep Ohio State out of the Rose Bowl this season.

The Buckeyes, whose 8-0-1 slate last season was good for second behind Alabama (10-0), were an overwhelming favorite to take the national championship this year.

The Rose Bowl trip will come along if the Buckeyes live up to their ranking. Ohio State lost the trip last year by a rejection vote of the university's faculty senate.

The defending champion Alabama Crimson Tide were tagged for third in the pre-season voting, behind Texas.

Michigan State was selected for fourth position, followed by Louisiana State, Mississippi, Purdue, Duke, Penn State and Washington, in that order.

SONNY LISTON

FLOYD PATTERSON

READY FOR TITLE GO—Boxing's biggest of the year, the heavyweight title bout between champion Floyd Patterson, 27, and Sonny Liston, 28-year-old Philadelphia contender who says he will kyo the champ, takes the stage in Chicago's Comiskey Park Tuesday, September 25, and will be televised on closed circuit TV. Liston is an early 8-5 favorite. Patterson and Liston have fought only one common opponent, Roy Harris. Patterson took 12 rounds to knock him out, Liston did it in the first heat. (Central Press)

Goalby Pockets Denver Purse

DENVER (AP)—The lucky shots are the difference between winning and losing.
Bob Goalby should know after collecting the $4,300 first prize Sunday in the Denver Open golf tournament.
His final 69 gave him a 277, three under par over the 6,753-yard par 35-35-70. Denver Country Club course. It was one stroke better than six other players in the closely bunched field.
Goalby said "a lucky shot—the kind you have to make to win—really saved me on 10."
On that 480-yard par four hole, Goalby's second shot hit into a bunker. "My sand iron was a great shot, a lucky shot, but those are the kind you have to make to win," Goalby said. The ball landed and held on a green sloping away from the fairway.

Ohio Wesleyan Football Locker Hit by Blaze

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Wesleyan opens its football season Sept. 22, but the team has suffered a loss already.
A fire in the stock room under the university's Selby Stadium Sunday did about $8,000 damage to football equipment and $25,000 structural damage.
Ohio Wesleyan's first home game isn't until Oct. 6, but officials said stadium seating sections were not damaged anyway. Rush orders have been placed to replace the damaged football practice and game gear.

SONNY LISTON

FLOYD PATTERSON

READY FOR TITLE GO—Boxing's biggest of the year, the heavyweight title bout between champion Floyd Patterson, 27, and Sonny Liston, 28-year-old Philadelphia contender who says he will kavo the champ, takes the stage in Chicago's Comiskey Park Tuesday, September 25, and will be televised on closed circuit TV. Liston is an early 8-5 favorite. Patterson and Liston have fought only one common opponent, Roy Harris. Patterson took 12 rounds to knock him out, Liston did it in the first heat. (Central Press)

Tribe Rookie's First Season 'Frustrating'

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Frustrating!" That was Al Luplow's description of his first year with the Cleveland Indians. The rookie outfielder has had problems with his fielding for the past few weeks, and Sunday was no exception.

He dropped two fly balls—one in the second inning, when the Kansas City Athletics scored four runs, and again in the third, when the A's added two more.

There were boos—the first Luplow has heard in the major leagues—when he came to bat. What did he do? He turned the books to cheers in the fourth inning with a two-run homer that put the Indians in front 8-7—a lead they held the rest of the way.

The 12-7 victory gave the Indians a sweep of the three-game series. The Indians got their first run in the second on Willie Kirkland's home run over the right field fence, his 21st of the season.

The Athletics got two in the third. Then the Indians came up with the big inning, scoring five runs to even the score at 6-6. Kansas City added a run to go ahead in the seventh, but Luplow's 14th homer put the Indians back in front. The Indians added two more runs in the fifth and two in the seventh to complete the scoring.

The Tribe, idle today, plays single home games against Washington Tuesday night and New York the next night before taking off on a nine-game road trip—the final trip of the season.

In the Probate Court, Pickaway County, Ohio
In the Matter of the estate of Reuben Stout, deceased.

Case No. 9-3672
Notice of filing of petition for granting original administration after 20 years
Notice is hereby given that on the 10 day of August, 1962, Kenneth M. Robbins filed his petition in the Probate Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, asking that he be appointed administrator with the will annexed of the estate of Reuben Stout, deceased, who died on or about the 19 day of January 1882, residing at 214 West Water Street of the City of Circleville in said county, stating that although twenty years had expired from the death of the said testator, that letters of administration with the will annexed should be granted to him for the following reasons:

In order that the real estate standing in the name of Reuben Stout on the Pickaway County records can be sold, the delinquent taxes assessed against the said real estate can be paid, and the real estate got into the hands of some person who will look after and take care of it.
A hearing will be had in said court on said petition on the 12th day of September, 1962, at 10:00 A. M.

Expansion Hinted In Farmer Strike

CORNING, Iowa (AP) — The National Farmers Organization said today its members may withhold feeder livestock from the market if packers start slaughtering them to supplement dwindling meat supplies.

Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., NFO president, issued the warning as the NFO started the second full week of its effort to raise livestock prices to farmers by keeping slaughter animals off the market.

Feeder cattle are steers and heifers which have not been fattened for slaughter. They normally are purchased from ranchers by feeders who fatten them and then sell them to processors. Staley contends processors are buying the feeder cattle to make up for the shortage of fat cattle.

Staley also disclosed that he asked the Department of Justice and congressional committees a week ago to investigate the possibility that impending higher meat prices may be the result of "collusion and price fixing" by chain stores and a major packer.

Chain stores and some packing companies announced Saturday that retail meat prices will be increased this week because of wholesale price increases.

Staley said the retail price increases, ranging up to 10 to 15 cents a pound on some cuts, are "uncalled for and unjustified," though he conceded some increases may be necessary if NFO goals are won.

Staley predicted a severe shortage of meat by the end of next week as the result of the NFO holding action.

"We are watching this thing," Staley said, "to see if packers start slaughtering feeder animals to supplement the supply of meat. If they do, we will include non-slaughter livestock in our holding action."

The NFO said its holding action was more successful than expected in its first week. Livestock receipts at interior Iowa and southern Minnesota markets and the 12 terminal markets were down 45.6 per cent from a week earlier, and 39.9 per cent from Labor Day week a year ago.

Stock Market Trading Slows

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices slipped gradually early this afternoon in slow trading.

Changes were small and there were scattered gainers. The list had opened mixed but the tone slowly deteriorated.

There was little in the weekend business and economic news to inspire investors. Without some special prodding, the slow decline of last week carried over to the first half day of this week's trading.

The one weekend development the market watched intently was the latest U2 incident in which a Nationalist Chinese plane was brought down by the Red Chinese air force. The tense foreign situation was believed a main factor in last week's market slide.

Ambulance Summoned

Circleville Firemen today reported an emergency ambulance run at 11:10 a. m. Saturday to the home of Mrs. Daniel Bowman, E. Franklin St., who became ill. She was not moved, but a physician was summoned.

CHILDREN OUTFITTED — Approximately 139 children were outfitted with clothing Friday at the Pickaway County Needy Children's Clothing Center on W. High St. Aiding in the clothing operation were members of the Presbyterian Church Women's Assn. and Welfare Department workers. The center, operated by the Pickaway County Juvenile Court, plans another outfitting session in December. A drive has been scheduled here next month to replenish the clothing supply for winter. Expansion Hinted In Farmer Strike

CORNING, Iowa (AP) — The National Farmers Organization said today its members may withhold feeder livestock from the market if packers start slaughtering them to supplement dwindling meat supplies.

Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., NFO president, issued the warning as the NFO started the second full week of its effort to raise livestock prices to farmers by keeping slaughter animals off the market.

Feeder cattle are steers and heifers which have not been fattened for slaughter. They normally are purchased from ranchers by feeders who fatten them and then sell them to processors. Staley contends processors are buying the feeder cattle to make up for the shortage of fat cattle.

Staley also disclosed that he asked the Department of Justice and congressional committees a week ago to investigate the possibility that impending higher meat prices may be the result of "collusion and price fixing" by chain stores and a major packer.

Chain stores and some packing companies announced Saturday that retail meat prices will be increased this week because of wholesale price increases.

Staley said the retail price increases, ranging up to 10 to 15 cents a pound on some cuts, are "uncalled for and unjustified," though he conceded some increases may be necessary if NFO goals are won.

Staley predicted a severe shortage of meat by the end of next week as the result of the NFO holding action.

"We are watching this thing," Staley said, "to see if packers start slaughtering feeder animals to supplement the supply of meat."

"If they do, we will include non-slaughter livestock in our holding action."

The NFO said its holding action was more successful than expected in its first week. Livestock receipts at interior Iowa and southern Minnesota markets and the 12 terminal markets were down 45.6 per cent from a week earlier, and 39.9 per cent from Labor Day week a year ago.
